(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 21.—One of the most important bills introduced in the Senate today is the "Pork Barrel Bill," which provides for the appropriation of $25,000,000 for the purpose of clearing the streams of Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas of "water hyacinths." It has several famous names attached to it, and is the result of a long and arduous struggle. The bill is introduced by Senator Dyer of Missouri, and is supported by a large number of other Senators. It is expected that it will pass the Senate this week.

representative of Wisconsin, who has made a minute study of it, calculates that it represents an actual total of $25,000,000.

DISTRIBUTION IS GENEROUS. Examination of the bill shows that the "pork" has been generously distributed to nearly every section of the country. It is charged that it has been framed to catch votes, and thus make it practically impossible to block its passage. The South has got large sums for projects which are alleged to be, in many cases, of little or no value for navigation purposes. New Jersey is one of the favored States.

It has several famous names attached to it, and is the result of a long and arduous struggle. The bill is introduced by Senator Dyer of Missouri, and is supported by a large number of other Senators. It is expected that it will pass the Senate this week.

An increase made by the Senate Committee on Commerce of nearly a million, the sum to be paid for a Chesapeake and Delaware canal, is now slated for sharp criticism. Among almost innumerable others which will be amended is one for the purpose of moving at government expense the river bed of the Grand Calumet River at Gary, Ind. The bill as revised in Senate Committee proposes to change the channel of the river and Senators antagonistic to the measure will charge that this is chiefly for the benefit of the big steel interests at Gary.

RUCKER'S MEASURE. A powerful blow is struck at the use of the "pork barrel" in national elections by the bill introduced by Representative Rucker of Missouri for the control of campaign contributions and expenditures. The measure is now before the House as unfinished business and in all probability will be passed next Wednesday.

It is a codification of three existing Federal laws with regard to campaign expenditures and also contains several new sections. The most significant of these is the one which provides that "no political committee" may use any State or Federal money for the purpose of influencing the election of any Senator or Representative. It is also a measure of the "pork barrel" which is the subject of the bill. It is expected that it will pass the House this week.

PASO, June 21.—Gen. Venustiano Carranza has forwarded his reply to the two notes of June 1 and 2, sent him by the mediation commissioners at Niagara Falls. It was learned here tonight. According to reports his reply to the A.B.C. mediators was sent to the Constitutional headquarters at Washington to be forwarded to the Brazilian, Argentine, Chilean and American Ambassadors at the Niagara Falls conference.

Carranza's note, it is understood, reiterated his willingness to have participated in the various conferences whose sole object he recognized to be the pacification of Mexico and whose good offices he tentatively recognized. The fulfillment of the discussion of Mexican internal affairs, however, is pointed out. While thanking the mediators for their efforts, the "first chief" made it plain, according to word received here, that among the subjects he considered it impossible to discuss are, the proposed armistice, military movement of the Constitutionalists, the armistice question and the assumption of a provisional President of Mexico.

CARRANZA'S VIEW. Carranza stated he believed that he only complied with his duty as first chief of the Constitutionalists when he declared that a grave error had been committed in attempting to solve such questions of transcendental importance to the Mexican people. It devolves upon the Constitutionalists themselves, he held, to decide what is best for the interests of their country.

The settling of such questions as the result of mediation, arbitration, or even intervention, would be unacceptable to the insurgents, he says, and he is therefore convinced that the conference at Niagara Falls will be without the definite result expected by the interested parties and foreign nations. The feeling in Saltillo, where Carranza has established his capital, according to the word reaching this city, is that the first chief's reply has ended the diplomatic incident connected with the interchange of notes between the mediation commission and Carranza.

PERQUERA MEDIATES. At the time of the breach between Carranza and Villa, Carranza was an interesting exchange of telegrams between Roberto Periquera, Carranza's agent, and Villa. Periquera, in his message expressed regret over the difficulties which had arisen between the two leaders and declared nothing could be more disastrous to the revolution than the country than such a split which had been the subject of the enemies of the Constitutionalists.

Declaring Villa's triumph has brought him honor from all Mexicans, he urged the general again to place himself at the service of the revolutionary cause in the same quality that had made him an idol of the people and to everything possible to bring about a solution of existing difficulties. This telegram was sent on June 17, and Villa's reply was received the following day. In this message Villa denied that any difference existed between himself and Carranza, and said he proposed to prevent such a crisis because of the needs of the country.

Efforts were made today by Carranza agents to secure the return of Juarez of national officials elected by Villa's military from their offices and the return to the National Treasury offices at Juarez of the 1,000,000 pesos in Constitutional paper confiscated by the troops. Roberto Periquera, Carranza's financial agent, held a long conference this afternoon, at which this matter was discussed.

Lawyers for World-be Immigrants Are Unable to Get Papers Served for the Dominion Officers, Who Keep Under Cover—Orientals Spend a Quiet Sunday. (BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.) VANCOOVER (B. C.) June 21.—Sunday passed without relief for the strained situation on board the Japanese steamer Komagata Maru, where 378 cramped and crowded Hindu would-be immigrants are in a practical state of mutiny, which prevents the captain of the vessel from turning his prow homeward across the Pacific to land at the place of their origin on this side.

Presence of the two Japanese cruisers near by served not at all to awe the Hindus and their determined air of domination over the crew of the steamship did not relax. There was less demonstration than yesterday aboard the steamer, but that was because of no further efforts being made to persuade the men to permit the anchors to be raised and the homeward voyage begun. Frequent conferences were held between the steamer captain and the commander of the cruisers, but the latter could offer no practical plan of aid, owing to the fact that the steamer is not in neutral waters, and serving of the habeas corpus process papers on the local immigration officers, whereby the Hindus hope to get their case into court, was not accomplished today, notwithstanding diligent search by the officers charged with the duty. The immigration officers could not be found. In addition to habeas corpus proceedings entered by J. Edward Bird counsel for the Hindus, in an effort to bring the whole Hindu question before the court, Mayor Baxter at the request of various public bodies has decided to call a public meeting Monday or Tuesday evening for a discussion of the subject. The meeting will be held in the Morse Show building, which seats 6000.

It has been suggested that energetic measures should be taken to force the departure of the Hindu ship. While he would not say in so many words, yet it was stated that the ship should be forced to leave.

Contract-Breaking Agitators

BUTTE (Mont.) June 21.—Seceders from the Western Federation of Miners launched an independent miners' union today, rejecting peace overtures from President Charles H. Moyer and his assistants. They elected as temporary president, M. McDonald.

There is little hope of compromise between the two factions and with the issue sharply drawn an open breach is expected within a few days. Federation officials threaten to import miners to fulfill the contracts with the operating companies. The mass meeting today was attended by 5000 miners. All voting was done by acclamation, the officers addressing the assembly through megaphones. The report of the executive committee, in whose hands had been left the drafting of the insurgents' policy, was adopted without change. It provided for the eventual formation of a permanent organization. Temporary headquarters will be established and an amendment of 15 cents of dues was adopted. The membership roll will be opened Tuesday morning.

MOYER NOT RECOGNIZED. An official notice was taken of the Western Federation and President Moyer had no one present to offer compromise. Unofficially it was declared that the seceders' hands are not accepting advances from the federation officials was determined opposition to the national as well as local officers and a strong desire not to be affiliated with any national organization.

The future policy of the federation will be announced at two meetings on Tuesday. Persons interested in a compromise had hoped that the insurgents would not take any definite action until Moyer had had an opportunity to outline his policy. The seceders have a executive committee of twenty, a majority of whom are known to be members of the Industrial Workers of the World. The chairman of the committee is E. Bradley, one of the leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World in Butte.

The regulars of the Butte local of the Western Federation of Miners, under the leadership of Charles H. Moyer, president of the federation yesterday obtained from the present officers of the local union and the recently elected officers who are to take office in July, their resignations, hoping to hold a new election and thereby save the Butte local from being disrupted.

UNIONISTS DESPERATE. Moyer last night announced that he had the resignations and that the complete plan he has formulated to save the union would be announced at the regular meeting of the union Tuesday night. Moyer announced the resignations last night, hoping to forestall action such as the seceders took today. The Western Federation holds contracts with the mine owners and besides the miners, has jurisdiction over all other mine workers, including holding engineers, carpenters, timber men, blacksmiths, rope men, electricians, teamsters, machinists and boiler-makers. All these are affiliated with the American Federation of Labor.

The Western Federation has the power by its contract with the mine owners to say who may be lowered into the mines and the federation's agents at the mines has the power to order the engineer not to lower any of the seceders into the workings. Under the contract between the federation and the mine owners, the federation, if it has not enough men in Butte to work the mines, must furnish others from the outside.

President Moyer tonight would give out no statement in regard to the action of the insurgents, except to say that he would remain in Butte "until the Western Federation of Miners has been re-established here and is again in complete control of local union affairs."

Ninety-one Bodies So Far Have Been Removed From Debris at the Collieries.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

HILLCREST (Alta.) June 21.—Although a large force of workmen continued clearing away the debris in Mine No. 26, Hillcrest Collieries, L., where 195 miners were entombed by an explosion last Friday, no additional bodies had been recovered today up to a late hour. Ninety-one bodies corrected figures show, have been removed. Hope of rescues alive any of the 194 miners still in the mine has been abandoned. A number of dead were buried today. The scarcity of coffins here has made necessary the ordering of a supply from Winnipeg, which is expected tomorrow.

VERA CRUZ AND PUEBLA MAINLY UNDER REBELS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SALTILLO (Mex.) June 20.—(Via Laredo, June 21.)—The entire northern part of the State of Vera Cruz and most of the State of Puebla now are under control of the Constitutionalists, according to an announcement at Gen. Carranza's headquarters today. Gen. Nicolas Flores reported by telegraph that he had taken the town of Orizaba, in the State of Hidalgo, and placed himself and 4000 men at the orders of Gen. Carranza. A report signed by more than 1000 citizens of that town declared civil government and municipal officers have been established by a popular election. Gen. Flores here-before has not been able to communicate with headquarters. It was reported also that municipal officers had been named by popular vote in many towns in Puebla. With the establishment of telegraphic communication to that region, Gen. Carranza today gave orders to Gen. Camacho and other chiefs of the Central States.

Thirty thousand men have been concentrated near here in preparation for a campaign toward the south and trains are arriving daily from the north with troops of Gen. Gonzalez, commanding the army of the north-east. Gov. Pastor Roux of Durango and Gen. Murgu, Elsonda and others arrived during the week and conferred with Gen. Carranza regarding the southern campaign.

FEROCIOUS CAGED LIONS DEVOUR THEIR MANAGER.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 21.—Emerson D. Dietrich, aged 26, a graduate of Cornell University, was torn to shreds and practically eaten alive this evening by five or six lions, whose cage he had entered for the purpose of feeding them. It required an hour's time and constant battling with the lions to recover the remains of Dietrich's body. Great quantities of formaldehyde were shot into the cage and the lions were gradually forced into a corner. Dietrich's head, one arm and a leg were the only articles of clothing left upon the remains, even the shoes having been torn off.

There were ten lions in the freight car, located on a side track at Sixteenth street and Indiana avenue, in the heart of the city. During the excitement, thousands of people, returning from a day's outing, were thrown into a condition of panic by information that some of the lions had escaped and were being pursued by rifle squads from all the near-by police stations and the Union Stock Yard. Notwithstanding the peril, immense crowds of people surrounded the scene of the tragedy until driven to safety by the police, who had been hastily summoned from every direction. While Dietrich was making his brief and losing fight for life in the claws of the ferocious beasts, five lions' cubs, each about the size of a wolfhound, leaped from the car and tried to slip away. George McCord, keeper of the animals, realized the peril in the crowds on every side, devoted all his energies to rounding them up and returned them to the car. The ten lions are the property of the Mrs. Adie Castillo, who is to open an engagement in a local theatre in July. Dietrich, who has been living at the Morrison Hotel, and was manager of the show, went to

MEXICAN SILVER IS ALMOST GONE.

Pesos Melted and Smuggled from the Country.

Banks and Authorities Issue Paper for the Metal.

Conditions at Capital Are Reported Deplorable.

BY GEORGE ADDISON HUGHES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

VERA CRUZ, June 21.—Financial panic has added its terrors to the deplorable conditions in Mexico. Silver has practically disappeared from the market, sixty-eight million pesos having been melted and smuggled from the country within the past month. There has been no gold for six months. Silver pesos bought for 25 cents are sold in bars at 40 cents in the United States and Europe, not only by individuals and Mexican banks, but by the government and government officials. For every silver dollar received, the banks are authorized to issue five of the worthless paper they buy one of silver.

Huerta also has confiscated millions of dollars of foreigners' and natives' money through the money order division of the postoffice. If Smith sends Jones a thousand dollars, Jones may get it at 25 a week or not at all. Government bonds long ago have been exhausted, but refugees, who bring the story of the panic here today, say the printing presses in the capital will work overtime next week.

Huerta's government owes incalculable sums that will never be paid. The Treasury Department is refusing to honor the smaller bills, candidly acknowledging no funds. Fresh bills with the smell of ink still on them are being circulated freely, although the banks, whose names they bear, have long since gone out of existence.

Absence on shore leave produced a clown and two heroes. Prentiss, a full-blooded Indian, ordinary seaman, swayed like a leaf in a windstorm, performed circus stunts on the mainmast of the Virginia a hundred and twenty feet above deck, singing "I Love the Cows and Chickens, But This Is the Life, This Is the Life." Master-at-Arms Wallace and a boatswain carefully climbed the rigging to Prentiss' broomstick support, fought and captured him. As he lay so they held him by the wrist, suspended in mid-air, themselves hanging doubled over yards, while they roped and lowered him. They will receive letters of commendation from the Secretary of the Navy.

Prentiss is in the brig still singing.

1. Extreme outpost of American army unchanged, 10 miles from Vera Cruz. 2. Mexicans' extreme outpost at Cordoba. 3. Rebel attacks on Guadalajara reported. 4. Fighting at Zacatecas said to have been resumed by Villa. 5. Yaquis said to be active in Sonora. 6. Regiments on U. S. border awaiting orders. 7. Carranza in his reply to the mediators' proposal that he enter the conference said that in his opinion they should let the internal affairs of Mexico alone and allow the rebels to settle them. Another prolonged conference of the mediators is expected to take up a plan suggested by Dr. Naon.

believe that only by the reinstatement of Scarpio Aguirre, the National Treasurer, Forces Ahead, the agent of the Department of Gobernacion, and other of Carranza's appointees could the matter be adjusted satisfactorily, although those arrested were supposed to have been given their liberty at Chihuahua.

Albino, one of Carranza's officials at Juarez, who escaped arrest left today for Saltillo to confer with the Constitutional leader about the situation in the north. Pequeña will remain on the border.

Gen. Villa's agent here, De la Garza, issued a statement from his chief regarding the return of the Spanish colonists of the Laguna district in Coahuila, who were sent to the border after the taking of Torreon. Villa said that while the Spanish colony in general had been active in assisting the Huerta government, he would allow the return of those who had not taken sides.

PLAN TO DIVIDE ENVOYS' SESSIONS.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NIAGARA FALLS (Ont.) June 21.—The mediators proposed today a new course of action, which not only will prolong the proceedings, but may eventually work out a solution of the Mexican problem. The suggestion contemplates separate conferences between the American delegates and representatives of the Constitutionalists.

Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehmann would continue their dealings with the Huerta delegates through the mediation board. In this way all elements in the Mexican situation would be drawn together and there would be no necessity for the declaration of an armistice until some agreement was reached and approved by the Constitutionalists.

The plan was said to be a result of the visit of Minister Naon of Argentina to Washington, where President Wilson is understood to have emphasized the written statement of Justice Lamar that any agreement reached by the mediation board which was not approved by the Constitutionalists would be "a paper agreement" and would not accomplish the sole purpose of the United States—the pacification of Mexico.

It was reported tonight that the Washington government already had extended an invitation to Gen. Carranza to the written representatives to Niagara Falls, N. Y., to confer with the American delegates, but confirmation was lacking. The reported departure of Fernando Iglesias Calderon, leader of the Liberal party, from Saltillo for Washington presumably to take charge of Constitutional interests in the United States was believed to have some bearing on developments here.

Optimism prevailed generally in American quarters. Dr. Naon reiterated that he had a feeling of genuine hopefulness. There was a general impression that if Constitutional representatives were to be received by the American delegates, the discussion of names might be taken up anew, the generalities about types being abandoned for actual consideration of individuals.

Dr. Naon crossed to the American side and talked for an hour with Justice Lamar. Previously the mediators and Huerta delegates had a long conference. There will be another conversation tomorrow morning between the American delegates and mediators, when the programme of action may be reduced to writing.

Troops Before Mazatlan Are Tired of Conflict.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

SALTILLO (Mex.) June 21.—Fighting has been resumed at Zacatecas under direct command of Gen. Villa, according to dispatches received here. It was said that three positions held by the Federalists had been captured by the Constitutionalists, but their locations were not made clear. No report of the casualties has been received. News is expected at any moment that Gen. Obregon has attacked Guadalajara.

GEN. VILLA DENIES CHAO'S EXECUTION.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

TORREON (Coahuila, Mex.) June 21.—Rumor that Gen. Felipe Angeles had been proclaimed provisional President by Gen. Villa, and that Gen. Chao had been executed were denied today by Gen. Villa. As soon as the reports reached his headquarters Gen. Villa said that he had heard nothing of Gen. Angeles' dismissal from Carranza's Cabinet, as reported from Saltillo. Chao was seen here two days ago as he was about to entrain his troops to move against Zacatecas. Angeles has been near Zacatecas with the artillery brigade for the last four days.

"The story that I executed Gen. Chao is a malicious lie," declared Gen. Villa. "Gen. Chao is with the division of the north near Zacatecas and far from dead. Two days ago he was a guest at my house, and the two of us parted on the best of terms. The story is a fabrication."

"I must say the name of the rumor that I proclaimed Gen. Angeles provisional President of the Mexican Republic. I have done nothing of the sort, no matter who said so, and nothing has been further from my mind. As to the story that Gen. Carranza has deposited Angeles as Secretary of War, I know nothing."

RING TO FLEECE WOMEN IN MARRIAGE SCHEMES.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, June 21.—Definite indication of an organized ring to fleece women, of which Frederick Keats Hamilton was the head, came to light today when E. D. McCadam of the National Detective Agency stated that supposed confederates of Hamilton had inserted in the newspapers advertisements by which Hamilton deceived his victims. The fugitive architect showed the advertisements, both to Mrs. Bertha Conner Hamilton, whom he had lured to Oakland, and to Mrs. Johnnie Mae Dunbar, with whom he eloped last Thursday to Stockton and then fled East.

That Hamilton is nearing Chicago was shown today when Mrs. W. A. Kinman of Oakland, sister of Mrs. Dunbar, received another telegram, believed to be from Hamilton, and which read: "All well and happy." The night letter was sent from East.

Developments in the case make it not impossible that the Omaha telegram may have been sent by aides of Hamilton in order to throw off the track possible pursuers. The Hamilton had plenty of assistance in his nefarious marriage schemes in the contention of the detectives who have investigated his career.

Of these, McCadam declared that Hamilton undoubtedly had planned in advance to dupe numerous women. In proof, he stated that inquiry has shown that advertisements in a Los Angeles newspaper, asking only Fred K. Hamilton to communicate with Lodge & Lodge, attorneys of Boston, as he had inherited a fortune, were paid for by the same man, judging from the description, who had impersonated Atty. T. J. K. McGowan in San Francisco. McGowan was introduced to Mrs. Bertha Hamilton outside of the office of Lewis Gardner, an architect in the Peoria building, as Atty. McGowan of Los Angeles. Hamilton also had told his wife that he was working for Gardner, although Gardner denied it later.

Order Changed.

WEST VIRGINIA TO BE DRY; ALL BREWERIES TO QUIT.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

WHEELING (W. Va.) June 21.—The State of West Virginia will be dry territory on and after July 1, next, if the amendment added to the constitution by more than 100,000 majority of the voters of the State at the general election in November, 1912, is properly enforced. Brewery properties, valued at fully $1,000,000, must be abandoned as breweries on that date. Several of the companies, however, already have made plans toward converting their plants. Some have decided to operate ice and cold storage structures, others amusement halls, and still others as packing-houses.

In this connection little choice is left the brewing companies, inasmuch as the new law makes it an offense to manufacture brewery products in the State. While the law is less drastic with reference to dealers, providing only for confiscation, yet retail dealers, without exception, are making plans toward accommodating themselves to the new order and have been raising their prices for restaurants and poolrooms, largely.

Still another class, however, probably will not be deterred from doing an illegal business in intoxicants inasmuch as the Federal authorities when pressed for a reply as to what they

WASHINGTON, June 21.—The Supreme Court today was expected to decide all of the cases now before it, a recess until next October for decision include the case of the State Tax Commissioner, who is ex-officio commissioner of prohibition, holds that a citizen may have in his home an unlimited quantity of intoxicants and can "treat" bona fide guests without being amenable to the law.

As regards the various clubs in the different cities of the State, the Commissioner's ruling is somewhat different, since he holds that the "locker system" is a violation and that any private organization keeping on hand supplies of drinks for its members is amenable to the law.

Meanwhile, those who favored the adoption of the amendment have been battling for a battle for its enforcement, once it becomes the law. They anticipate trouble only in Ohio county, of which Wheeling is the chief city, and in McDowell county, in which are a number of small mining towns.

"It's Only a Joke."
Fred LeRoy, a miner, told Patrolman Stevens when arrested at First and Main streets early yesterday morning. "When you put your arms around that drunk and took out his heart plug, it was only a joke!" asked the patrolman, sarcastically. "Yes, only a joke," repeated LeRoy. The police blotter explains it as grand larceny.

WANT HIGH LICENSE.
(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
PORTERVILLE, June 21.—That the average housewife needs protection against herself is the statement of the Porterville Business Men's Association officials, who have petitioned the City Council to raise the license for house-to-house canvassers and street peddlers from $10 per day to $50 per day. It is stated that recently a gang of clever operators sold in Porterville several hundred dollars' worth of alleged silverware. A few days after their departure it was found that the reputed plate was the cheapest kind of composition of a class to utterly unfit for any domestic use. The business men believe the license for this class of sales should be made practically prohibitive.

COTTON CROP RIPENS FAST.

New Compress at Imperial Near Ready for Use.

Porterville Grain Growers to Market Product.

Walnut Estimate Indicates
Strange Conditions.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)
IMPERIAL, June 19.—Work was begun this week on the construction of the cotton compress, which will be installed by the Imperial Compress Company. It is to be an eighty-two-inch Webb press of the latest design, having a capacity of 1500 bales per day. This is the only compress west of Houston, and in all probability it will compress all of the cotton raised in the valley that is sent out in a compressed form.

It is the expectation of the company to handle 50,000 bales this year, as the estimated crop of the valley will be close to 75,000 bales. The company is composed wholly of Imperial people and the capital will be local. The company is capitalized at $50,000, and it will add to the pay roll of Imperial not less than $35,000 a year.

At the first meeting of the stockholders yesterday, the following officers were chosen: F. C. Paulin, president; J. P. Bauder, vice-president; N. A. Mackey, treasurer; Milton H. H. Lee, secretary, and C. W. Thrash, manager. The building and equipment will cost about $35,000. The compress is to be finished and ready for business by August 15.

The farmers around Imperial, who are engaged in the cotton growing business have formed a co-operative company and will erect at once a five-story gin here, which will be finished in time for the growing crop. The acreage planted to cotton in the vicinity of Imperial this year makes this a safe and necessary venture. Valley cotton is ripening very fast and, as it looks now, picking will begin as early as the first week in July.

GRAIN MARKETS.
PORTERVILLE, June 21.—Grain growers of the Terra Bella, Lois and Ducor district will hereafter market their own grain, arrangements to that effect having been concluded today in the formation of a partnership, including all the leading growers of the southern portion of Tulare county and the purchase from the Valley Grain and Warehouse Company of a string of storage warehouses situated in Lois, Terra Bella, Ducor and Oris.

Work of picking the largest single crop of this valley of the Porterville district has been concluded at the Ford ranch, where 35,448 boxes of oranges were produced this year. The crop will net the owners about $50,000. The Ford bought this property a year ago and their first crop will net them more than $0 per acre on their investment.

Raising of Angora goats has proven profitable in the industry in the Porterville foothills this year. About 5000 pounds of goat hair was the output of the district. Some of the fleece sold by A. A. Howard, the pioneer in the industry in this section brought 70 cents per pound. The goats are pastured on waste brush land, where they require no care and no feeding.

WALNUT ESTIMATE.

FULLERTON, June 21.—Walnuts in Orange county this year will be 30 per cent. short of a normal crop, from present indications, according to Arthur Staley's estimate. Staley is the secretary and manager of the Fullerton-Placentia Association of Walnut Growers, and is well informed regarding conditions in this county. From reports received by him, it is believed the crop in Los Angeles county will be from 30 to 40 per cent. above the normal production, while Santa Barbara and Ventura counties will probably be 10 per cent. short. He estimates the total crop for California this year at 11,000 tons. The annual consumption of walnuts in this country is about 30,000 tons, the demand in excess of the home crop being supplied by importations from France and European countries.

ORANGE SHIPMENTS.
LINDSAY, June 21.—Figures, which have been compiled by the Orange Packing Association of this city show that for the 500 cars of Valencia shipped from here during the season, which has just closed, the growers received $542,000. As about $50,000 was paid out for labor, the gross income to the district was approximately $492,000. Averages which have been figured show that for all grades the price received here was about $1.75 a box.

SAND TRAIL TO NIGHT SHOOTER.

Arrests May Follow De Turk Hearing Today.

Assailant Recognized as One of "Queen's" Enemies.

Corporation Believed Back of Fight on Woman.

In Judge Caban's court this afternoon is set for hearing the dramatic story of fifteen years of struggle by a woman, first against poverty and then against the horde of enemies and the misfortunes which wealth brought, including the estrangement of her husband and the attempted murder of herself. If she is able to appear—she was confined to her bed with armed guards patrolling her grounds yesterday—Mrs. M. H. de Turk, known as the "Sand Queen of the River," will seek to have made permanent a temporary restraining order against N. O. Harmon, a contractor who claims the right to enter the De Turk property and haul away sand. Mrs. de Turk believes she knows who tried to kill her by firing through her window last Wednesday night, and she came to light during the hearing which will justify an arrest.

More than fourteen years ago Mrs. de Turk, then Mrs. Keyes, started a small chicken and hog ranch in the creek bottom near the present city limits of Vernon. De Turk went into partnership with her, paying $500 of the $1400 necessary to purchase the fifteen acres of sand and after a year they decided to marry and continue the partnership. De Turk raising hogs and Mrs. de Turk the chickens.

These were lean years according to Mrs. de Turk, and long after, when the city decided to pay her 25 cents a load for the privilege of dumping garbage on the waste land, they had a hard scramble to keep afloat and it was only through the never-tiring efforts of Mrs. de Turk that the couple managed to retain possession of the then unprofitable sand lot.

Then came the day when it was discovered that the sand on the De Turk property is very valuable. It is white and clean, and there was every grade of building sand and gravel in the different strata. Before long the dollars came without an endeavor on the part of the De Turks. There was a steady stream of wagons either bringing loads of cans to dump on the vacant land, or coming empty to carry away a load of the sand. As Mrs. de Turk said they got the money coming and going.

No sooner, however, did the facts become known that the waste land that the De Turks had bought was fairly coining money for them than many began looking with envious eyes. Real estate men vowed they would cloud their title, corporations threatened condemnations and in every way the De Turks were harassed. According to Mrs. de Turk, her husband came under the influence of an attorney, three years ago, and on several occasions they all but lost their dearly bought property. Recently on the advice of this attorney, De Turk signed an agreement with Harmon, allowing him to have possession of all the land and to haul away the sand at a small sum per load. Mrs. de Turk, who is 52, alleges that her husband, who is 51, was unduly influenced when he signed the contract. Harmon, she believes, is acting for a corporation. Finding her protests were of no avail, Mrs. de Turk proceeded to put locks and chains on all the gates and to stand guard against Harmon's teams. The usual injunction proceedings followed and this afternoon the question of a permanent injunction will be decided.

CIVIL WAR MAN ANSWERS "TAPS."

WAS A CRUM OF PRESIDENT GARFIELD DURING COLLEGE.

Frederick J. Teale, Civil War veteran, legislator and retired real estate man, died at his home, No. 218 South 80th street, Saturday. Born in England in 1838, he came to America when he was 5 years old.

As a student in Oberlin College, he became an intimate companion of President Garfield, and the two boys roomed together through several school terms. They remained close friends until President Garfield's death.

After closing his college work, Mr. Teale went to Iowa, where he identified himself as an ardent Abolitionist before the war. At the opening of hostilities he enlisted in the Fourth Iowa Infantry as a private, rose to the rank of captain, and then brevet-major. The closing period of his enlistment was as an officer with Gen. Sherman in the historic march to the sea.

Returning to Iowa, he married Miss Lavina Houston and established himself as a successful business man. He was called to serve in both houses of the Iowa Legislature, going first to the Assembly, where he served one term, and then to the Senate for two terms.

Mr. Teale came to California twenty-seven years ago, and resumed his work here. For many years he was prominent in the real estate business, and was a principal in many important business transactions.

In his social affiliations he was a member of the Los Angeles Post, O. A. B. and of the Hollenbeck Lodge, F. and A. M. Private funeral services will be held at his late residence at 11 o'clock this morning. The body will be cremated in Evergreen Cemetery.

ALLEGED FORGERY.
[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
FULLERTON, June 21.—Detectives were here yesterday looking for a young man who gave the name of Ayres while he was in Fullerton about two weeks ago. Ayres claimed to be a newspaper man and said he was supporting a mother and sister in Los Angeles. He stopped at the Hotel Pinson while here and when he departed he gave a check on a San Francisco bank for $25, bearing the signature of McAfee. The bank reported that it had no such name on its books and the hotel believes that Ayres forged the check, as the handwriting seems to be the same as a part of a letter found in a waste basket and drawn to his mother. The hotel swore to a complaint against Ayres and the detectives are after him.

Juvenile Crime.

BOY BURGLARS ACTIVE; PICKPOCKETS CONFESS.

AS A RESULT of a singular outbreak of juvenile crime, three 14-year-old boys are under arrest, confessed pickpockets, and four other young lads escaped after a wholesale raid on "hole-in-the-wall" laundry agencies near Central Park early yesterday morning.

The arrest of the boy pickpockets leaves the free field to a man 40 years of age who poses as a police officer.

The laundry depredations were committed by boys, the eldest of whom is not more than 14. Not a penny of loot rewarded their efforts, though they broke into ten offices.

The boys rode bicycles and singled out laundry offices, with one exception. They entered by tearing out the hamp and locks to the doors. At 5 o'clock in the morning Mrs. G. C. Kircher of No. 939 West Seventh street, telephoned the detective bureau that some one was breaking into the office before her house. She went out and found two boys working on the door. They fled on bicycles.

While Detectives McIntosh, Shy and Barnes were taking descriptions of the lads, Mrs. Kircher suddenly cried: "There they go now; that's the two!"

Two boys were headed toward Ninth on Figueroa on bicycles. The detectives leaped into their machine and gave chase, but the two turned into an alley and escaped.

Meantime other reports had come to headquarters. F. M. Chatten of No. 636 West Ninth street had been awakened by the boys breaking into his laundry.

RICH MEXICAN DIES OF HURTS.

Struck by Car Thursday, He Fails to Rally.

Unconscious for Three Days With Broken Skull.

Relative Comes from Mexico to Arrange Burial.

Without having regained consciousness since Thursday night, when he was run down by a motor car at Fifth and Spring streets, Marcial Huerta Quintana, wealthy and owner of Mexico, and said to have been a distant relative of the Mexican President, died yesterday at the Sisters' Hospital from a basal fracture of the skull.

Coroner Hartwell will hold an inquest over the body probably tomorrow, when the responsibility, if any exists, for the accident, will be determined. The case which ran him down was driven by W. A. Mann of No. 217 East Twenty-fifth street.

Senor Quintana's body was taken to the parlors of Cunningham & O'Connor, where it will be held pending the arrival of a brother who left Tampico, Mex., for this city the day following the accident. When he arrives, which will be in about nine or ten days, the place of burial will be determined. In all probability the body will be shipped to Mexico.

LARGE ESTATE.
Senor Quintana leaves a large estate, which consists mostly of farming land at San Luis de la Pava in the State of Guanajuato, about 300 miles north of Mexico City.

He was overjoyed to see the young ladies and could hardly wait to take them back to their mother and aunt. He went carefully over their work of the past year at the Orton School for Girls in Pasadena and was delighted with the progress they had made. It was arranged that if conditions should permit they should return to Pasadena next year.

The Misses Virginia and Dolores Quintana, daughter and niece, respectively, will remain at the Orton school in the meantime.

Senor Quintana in an interview in Pasadena soon after his arrival there expressed great sorrow over the state of affairs in Mexico, but said that he looked for a peaceful settlement with very little more fighting.

Philanthropic.
STARTS CHARITY FUND CAMPAIGN.
TWENTY-SIX CITIES WATCHING LOS ANGELES.

Work of Raising One Hundred Thousand Dollars to Be Handled With the Strictest Business Integrity—Incorporate as Los Angeles Council of Social Agencies.

With twenty-six cities watching and asking for details of the management and the progress, Los Angeles has begun a charity campaign to raise a fund of $100,000, which will be used in relieving distress and assisting the unfortunate.

This fund is to be handled with the strictest business integrity, by means of unquestioned ability and responsibility. The work of raising the money is now under way.

It is an original method that is being employed, created here because of the waste and confusion that grew out of the old haphazard method of providing for the needy. Experts were commissioned to learn the exact sum that would liberally provide for every worthy person who needed public assistance. After an exhaustive investigation the report was made that $100,000 would be ample to meet all legitimate demands.

Immediately, the Los Angeles Council of Social Agencies was incorporated. It had the support of the responsible interests of the city. The first duty of the council is the establishment of the fund, which will be raised by popular subscription.

Once a decision has been made to fund the fund, the business interests of the city will be free from the constant contributions to charitable causes that have been asked of the city by the numerous agencies in charge of charitable work in the past.

At a luncheon given in the Los Angeles Athletic Club Friday, May 15, the most important business and professional men of the city gathered to discuss the proposed plans and suggest new ones. The scheme of the movement was outlined, showing that the work of conducting the charity relief work of the city was to be upon as sound a business basis as that upon which any bank is established.

"Tea and Coffee"

are just as harmful to children as alcohol is to grown-ups," says Dr. Charlotte Abbey, superintendent of the Women's Directory, New York.

The reason why coffee and tea injure anybody is because these beverages contain the poisonous drug, caffeine (from 1 1/2 to 3 grains to the cup,) which physicians have long known affects the heart, stomach and liver.

Children especially, with their delicate nerves, are susceptible to the action of caffeine, and should never be allowed to have tea or coffee or any other beverage containing drugs.

Thousands of adults have found that their headaches, nervousness, indigestion and sleeplessness have vanished when a change was made from coffee and tea to

NORMAL CLASS HEARS SERMON

Baccalaureate Service at Immanuel Presbyterian.

Minister Chooses as Subject "The Sealed Book."

Notes from Other Pulpits of Los Angeles.

Yesterday morning Dr. John Ballou Shaw preached the baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class of the Normal School at Immanuel Presbyterian Church, taking the subject of "The Sealed Book." Revelations of the future are sealed up in the book and to open the seals thereof, they must wait in patience and have faith in God.

Dr. Shaw said in part: "Every book, whatever its contents, is sealed upon it, and until its contents are known remains sealed, even the book of life. The Bible, however, is not wholly broken, but is sealed up in the book of life. The Bible is a book of mysteries, of great unlocked mysteries which are ever confronting and ever filling the mind. The Bible is a book of mysteries, of great unlocked mysteries which are ever confronting and ever filling the mind. THE MARBLE HEART.
 A noted sculptor of San Francisco has finally succeeded in securing a divorce from his wife instead of his art. The lady must have had a heart of chilled steel to have alienated a man accustomed to hearts of stone.

THE STITCH IN TIME.
 Sometimes it is ahead of time. A little bride eloped with the best man in this city last week an hour after the ceremony. She could have saved everybody connected with the affair a lot of trouble by eloping an hour before the wedding instead of after. It is always time to correct mistakes before they are made.

A PLEASANT CHARACTER.
 A Baron Henri de Rothschild was wounded by an assassin on a street in Paris Saturday. In the interesting play of "The Five Frankforters" the head of the Paris house is little Jacob. He is the youngest member of the family and the one about which the romance centers. Its author won a wide friendship for the French head of the famous banking family.

SUMMER ARRIVES.
 You cannot prove it by the weather, but it really has. There was snow at Greenwich, Ct., Saturday, and New York went shivering. Nevertheless Sunday was summer on the calendar. Not everyone knows when summer begins. Most people think it starts with the first of June, but the truth is it commences with the twenty-first. Nothing better illustrates the way of the world in lumping things after a loose fashion, like this popular misjudgment of the seasons by twenty days.

THE WARSPITE.
 A slight change in orthography may make a great change in the name of anything. When the great English warship, with an immense ram protruding from her bow, was constructed she bore such a resemblance to a gigantic woodpecker that it was determined to call her after that bird, but in order to somewhat dignify the designation the Admiralty adopted the German form of the word and called her the "Warspite." The public changed the spelling into "Warespite," and by that unchristian designation the vessel has ever since been known.

BUSINESS MEN PROTEST.
 Business men, corporations and partnerships to the number of 350,000, and representing all parts and all industries of the United States, have filed protests with President Wilson, Vice-President Marshall, Speaker Clark, and the Congressional committees that have the anti-trust legislation in hand, against the exemption of labor unions and agricultural associations from the operation of the Sherman law. This is thus far the most conspicuous evidence of the belated determination of the business men of the United States to impress upon the government that they, too, have rights. The protests have been transmitted through the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, an organization which, though it is of comparatively recent establishment, is demonstrating its strength and usefulness.

This protest should have the effect of giving pause in the Senate to the tendency toward the same submission to demands for special privilege to classes which disgraced the House. These business men are not asking special privilege. They are not asking exemption from any law. They are not demanding legislation favorable to them. They ask only that there shall be an equal and impartial application of the laws of the land.

THE NICARAGUA TREATY.
 Of the $5,000,000 which will be paid to Nicaragua if the Senate shall ratify President Wilson's treaty agreeing to pay that sum, $1,000,000 will go to pay New York bankers who loaned Nicaragua that amount on the security of 49 per cent. of the Nicaraguan Railway, $500,000 will go to pay lawyers (who are friends of Secretary Bryan and who love President Wilson to distraction) for their services in inducing the administration to make the treaty, and the remaining $1,500,000 will be deposited with the Nicaraguan National Bank, 51 per cent. of the stock of which is owned by the same bankers who own absolutely 51 per cent. of the stock of the Nicaraguan Railway, and who hold the other 49 per cent. as collateral for a $1,000,000 loan.

As it looks now, the Senator who controls the government of Nicaragua will not get much of the $5,000,000 if the Senate shall ratify the treaty, for New York bankers who are persons grata with President Wilson will get the largest share, and Washington lawyers who are friends of Secretary Bryan will obtain a lot of boodle.

Yet the bargain will not be a bad one for Uncle Sam, for it gives him a naval base and a protectorate, and the exclusive right to construct an interoceanic ship canal across Nicaragua. The time may come, and come speedily, when the pressure of business upon the Panama Canal will make the construction of a second interoceanic waterway a commercial necessity, and as the pusillanimous strap of Great Britain who now occupies the White House, and his subservient Congressmen and Senators, will then have retired to private life, we may be able to construct such a canal without taking Great Britain into partnership in the management.

AMERICA'S GREATEST ENEMY, CONGRESS.

The budgeon for big business. That's the Democratic way. Is a business unfortunate enough to be big, then hit it! So cry the Bourbons, headed by the Prince of Theorists and backed up by their silvered idol, the Prince of Peace.

Roosevelt, before he lost himself on his River of Doubt, started the attacks on important business interests. He belabored them with the big stick. He's sorry now and is hoarsely expressing his regret. But the evils that Presidents of his stripe do live after they have left the White House. 'Twould be a nation of fools that would send him back. Heaven knows that Wilson has done enough harm to business in this country with his absurd theories, but the spectacle of Roosevelt criticizing him for following his own lead is enough to make the imps of darkness laugh on their greased grids.

Of course, that ample and accomplished gent, Hiram Johnson, sample copy of Theodore, as the Brazilians amiably call the colonel, followed his leader in seeking to budgeon big business into its grave in California. He and his untidy lot of legislative longhairs have done all they possibly could to cut the heart out of business, big or little, in this State. They have hedged industry around with all sorts of impossible laws and are now asking people to send them back to office in order that they can take a few more vicious swings at the mainstays of California.

And yet what could they do without big business in this State? Were it not for the large corporations, who pay millions of dollars in taxes, the little fellows, the clerks, laborers and small householders, would have to pay twice as much in State taxes as they do now, if not more. The corporations supply, by way of taxes, pretty nearly the entire sum needed to run the State government. Yet Gov. Johnson and his howling henchmen are doing all they can to kill big business. Such wise men are these Progressives, such noble-souled patriots! Let the State go hang, so long as they can swat the corporations, is their motto.

California public service and other State corporations, which are taxed on their gross earnings to raise the State's annual revenue, will contribute $13,609,563 toward the support of the State government for the fiscal year, which ends June 30, 1915, according to the assessment roll announced by the State Board of Equalization. Receipts from fees, inheritance taxes, interest on deposits and other revenue will amount to about $1,500,000. This makes a total of more than $15,000,000 for the operation of the State government next year. The Legislature of 1913 directed that $14,908,900 should be raised to run the government during 1914-15. The Progressives profess to be jubilant, because this means that it will not be necessary to levy an additional tax on counties to make up a deficit. No thanks are due the Progressives because no such tax will be required the coming year. They have attempted to put big business out of business, but in spite of them the railroads, light, heat and power companies, telegraph and telephone companies, express and car companies and other corporations in the State manage to keep going.

Some of the companies are doing business at a too small margin of profit. Some are just holding their own, hoping the people will come to their senses and place the Republicans back in power, when prosperity for all will reappear. Others are losing money. This state of affairs is bad for those whom the Progressives so blithely call "the common people," as well as for the corporations. The hope of "the common people," as well as of legitimate business, lies in the return to office of the Republicans. Practical men are needed at the helm in this State as well as at Washington.

Nobody requires a jernette or a tortoiseshell monocle to see that there's something the matter with business in the United States. California is not suffering so much as other parts of the country, but this is not because of, but in spite of Holy Hiram and his regiments of incompetents. Nature insists on being kind to California and gives her bountiful crops. Still, things would be vastly better here, if the boot was firmly applied to Hiram, et al., as the lawyers say.

One boot for Hiram and the other for the Democrats. And kick hard. That's the programme. Bores 'em, boys. And girls, too. You've got the vote. That's what the wide-whiskered Secretary of Commerce Redfield, the prosperity publicity man for the Cabinet, wags his chin courageously enough in an effort to show that business is good. But the people know better. Moreover, the President himself gives the lie to his subordinate. The professor declares that "the interests," the awful "interests," have "combined" to create a feeling of depression throughout the country. He mournfully declares that it is totally unnecessary. The same might be said of the Democratic administration.

But, as the San Francisco Chronicle points out, were the President a man of useful, practical experience he would know that any such combination is absolutely impossible. "To say that anybody would stop producing what he could sell at a profit is absurd. Nobody is doing it. On the contrary, and especially in the textile industries, big business is operating as much as possible, in most cases without profit, in order to maintain organizations until times get better." Such is the state to which the theorists at Washington have reduced the country.

Business men from Atlantic to Pacific are praying Congress to "shut up and go home." The President assails them for it. He wishes Congress to keep on doing mischief. He has deadly work he still wants his subservient followers to do. He has bound big business and now he desires to gag it.

Americans are the world's keenest business men. But the Germans are not far behind them. Nothing has been more remarkable than the progress of Germany since Bismarck consolidated the country. Does Germany, ruled by Socialists though it is, smile at big business? Does it dash away the hand that feeds many of its millions? Not by the Kaiser!

Germany is favoring the amalgamation of small companies into large companies at the very time that the United States is pursuing the opposite policy. The Philadelphia Public Ledger notes that Germany is even compelling amalgamations, or co-operation, as witness the action taken at the time of the recently threatened steamship war in the fatherland. Germany is beating Great Britain in building the greatest ships in the world. It has come to the conclusion that "big things must be done by mighty instruments." The United States set out to win the world's supremacy in trade. On-lookers declare that it is losing to Germany. It has, as the Philadelphia paper observes, mastered the elemental truth that small corporations are no more competent to win, hold and handle the trade of the world than the caravels of Columbus would be to serve the trans-Atlantic traffic of today.

It Can't Be Done, Hiram!

Germany is no enemy of the United States. It is a powerful, but friendly, rival, which is using all the means it can command to place itself at the head of the nations, where the United States ought to be. Germany, one repeats, is no enemy. Our greatest enemy is within our own gates. It is the Democratic Congress. And it is time that the enemy listened to the voice of America, which demands that it shut up and go home.

THE BRITISH HINDU.

The intense international melodrama which is being enacted in Vancouver harbor may easily be a turning point in the history of the British empire.

It is the eternal problem of color and the vital question whether a man is just as good a British citizen if his skin happens to be brown.

According to the law of British Columbia the 300 Hindus who form the live cargo of the Japanese ship Komagato Maru may not land, being regarded as Asiatic aliens, a class of people that the province has signified her intention of prohibiting. Canada as a whole has passed no such law, but is thoroughly sympathetic with those sentiments—as likewise are the British dominions of Australia and South Africa, both of which have passed active exclusion laws.

But the great Indian empire, which forms so rich, so large, so vital a part of Great Britain's imperial domain, has a population of 300,000,000, the majority being Hindus. And they have been taught to regard themselves as proud British subjects. And a British subject is a great and splendid person, who may travel whither he wills the world over, but more particularly over that vast fifth of it known as the British empire. Providing he is white.

But if he happens to be a proud British subject of the wrong color he will find that sister Canada, sister South Africa, sister Australia will close their doors in his face. They will have none of him and they make no bones about it. It is just plain "Keep out."

Nothing could be more embarrassing to Mother England. Especially as the Hindu is no fool. He is not only a proud British subject, but a still prouder Hindu, and he means to know the reason why. To which end 300 of him have come to see for themselves. They have chartered the Japanese steamer Komagato Maru and they have made a polite call upon Mistress British Columbia—and await admittance. The steamer has been there two weeks now, but the door has not been opened. British Columbia is adamant and the Canadian government is up against a colossal problem.

And an additional complication presents itself, inasmuch as Japan is a political ally of Great Britain. Japan has a flagship in Canadian waters watching events, and Japan has a very personal interest in Asiatic exclusion.

It would almost seem that the mother country must choose between insulting her ally and starting a political conflagration in her Indian empire, or coercing Canada and thereby severing the first of the trail threads that bind our northern neighbor to the family.

But supposing Britain allies herself with India and Japan against Canada? Even so, her troubles will not be settled. For the other great self-governing dominions, South Africa and Australia, are still firm in their decision to exclude Asiatics, at no matter what cost.

THE INEVITABLE SPLIT.

Even the most obtuse watchful waiter must have foreseen the futility of resting any hope of Mexican peace on the arms of the Constitutionalists. Eliminating Huerta will never be worth the loss of time and energy and life involved, when that object of Wilson's foreign policy, by the use of the whole influence and power of the United States, has been finally accomplished.

To be consistent, Wilson must apply the same treatment to Gen. Villa, who is already in line to assume the dictatorship, and who also will get there by a process of blood-letting and near-murder. For the inevitable contest between the fighting front and the political head of the last Mexican rebellion has at last reached a climax, while any benefit derived from the A.B.C. attempt at mediation promises to be confined to the hotel-keepers and merchants in a small summer resort on the Canadian border.

That Villa can eliminate Carranza with such apparent ease contrasts very unfavorably with the protracted efforts of President Wilson to apply the same process to Victoriano Huerta. And after Villa has dictated still another rebellion has been begun, we must start all over again—more elimination, more watchful waiting, more rebel splits. An endless chain, a continuous performance. That is if the American people allow their prestige to be indefinitely lowered through the supineness of a President who would—but does not—represent American ideals.

Villa's sudden rise to power is another proof, if such were needed, that the Mexican people cannot be handled except by a fighting man with a long sword. Huerta, Santa Anna, Diaz, Huerta were all soldiers first and civilians afterward. Maximilian, Madero and Carranza were civilians first and soldiers a long way afterward, and so from the first were doomed to failure.

How can Bryan and Wilson force their peace ideals on a people so constituted, except by a show of determined and superior power? Wilson is hardly a large enough man to make over in a few months 14,000,000 people, by platform lectures, or school disciplining. The split in the Constitutionalist ranks is the last blow to the Wilson hope of attaining the smallest useful object by a policy of "watchful waiting."

THE WAY IT GOES.

WALT MASON IN THE TIMES.

Most all the big men in the land came up from small beginnings; in youth they toiled to beat the band, and wisely used their winnings. But, having won the victor's crown, their senses seem to wander; they keep on salting dollars down for idle bets to squander. The self-made man too often cries: "My Algonquin, dear laddie, won't have to bust his books and eyes and labor like his daddy." So Algy loafs upon the earth, expensive, gaily, and when grown up he isn't worth three whoops in Ypsilanti. He leads a life of gilded ease, all foolish fads pursuing, and yet the blind old daddy sees no harm in what he's doing. Far better for poor Algonquin if he had harsher masters, who'd make him rise at break of dawn and earn his own plasters. A life of idleness and sloth is scorned by men who've sweated, and few will ever cut a swath who pampered are and petted. When'er I hear of gilded youth receiving unearned riches, I say: "The lucky lad, forsooth, is he who's digging ditches."

STREAKS OF WIT.

 [Titt-Bitt:] "He is the most tender-hearted man I ever saw."
 "Kind to animals!"
 "I should say so. Why, when he found the family cat insisted on sleeping in the coal bin, he immediately ordered a ton of soft coal!"

Worked and Talked.

 Barber (astonished): No, sir.
 Stranger: Indeed, I thought that you might be trying to give an imitation of the Man With the Hoe.

SYLVIA PANKHURST.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.

Sylvia Pankhurst is the woman of the moment in England, for she has achieved a conquest over Premier Asquith which has not been vouchsafed to any other branch of the woman's suffrage movement.

She has a most extraordinary personality and must not be confused with her mother, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, or her strong-minded, clear-headed sister, Christabel. For Sylvia is a free lance in the woman's suffrage movement in England, absolutely independent of the Women's Social and Political Union, of which her mother and sister are the guiding spirits. She is of a fierce, emotional, intense nature, and her extraordinary power over the wilder elements of the east-end mob of London frequently made her an embarrassment to the more logical organization.

So the women held a great council of war and Sylvia parted company with the parent union. A friendly parting, best for both of them. It was agreed that the east end of London should be her undisputed territory—that is to say, the poor district, the slum district. And from it she has raised a wonderful army, of which it may truly be said: "Hark, hark, the dogs do bark, the beggars are coming to town." For Sylvia commands the wild, unruly loyalty of tens of thousands of the most terrible young ruffians to be found anywhere. They crowd in their thousands to hear her speak, and she sways them with a magic spell "to do her behests in pleasure or in pain."

A dangerous army, the young and lawless mob, with nothing to lose by violence and everything to gain. It is Sylvia who has advocated bombs and firearms, Sylvia who believes in extreme methods, even, if necessary, exceeding the terrible riots and bloodshed of the early nineteenth century, by which the men of England gained their franchise a hundred years ago. And in according Sylvia Pankhurst the concession of a council to discuss the situation Premier Asquith has given a hostage to fortune in very truth, for he has given to reckless lawlessness and violent threats what he has declined to accord to the more mild, logical intellectual sections of the woman's suffrage movement.

Mrs. Pankhurst and Christabel advocate militancy against property only, and the whole of the Women's Social and Political Union has taken a solemn vow to protect human life.

Sylvia Pankhurst and her mob army make no such humane restriction, their motto being, "Votes for women, by any means." Mrs. Pankhurst and Christabel carry out their political fight with the aid of the cleverest and most cultured brains the woman's movement can boast. The women that are selected to make the great public protests are chosen for their wealth of intellectual understanding and their physical poise and dignity.

Sylvia believes in no such high-minded methods. She prefers to make her public protests with the worst and most forbidding elements that humanity can muster. She picks out care-worn, gnarled old hags, whose lives have been spent in factories from early youth—women born and reared in such ghastly poverty that even the ablest Californians can never imagine it; women who have never had a chance to be anything but the dregs of the community—terrifying examples of what she regards as the result of exclusive masculine government.

Sylvia is about 28 or 30 years of age, very thin, very earnest, very intense. She never shines in an intellectual assembly—it is the vulgar mob she can sway, the mob she understands. She is a gentlewoman by birth, a sweated-labor seamstress by sympathy. Not in the least good-looking, careless in her dress, yet a strong and most unusual personality that leaves a deep impression. She appears to be entirely selfless, even those who least approve her methods would never accuse her of self-seeking, self-aggrandizement. Naturally she seems to be just a little mad, a wild, inspiring, logical sort of madness, with a curious understanding sympathy and understanding, which is doubtless what makes that strong appeal to the mob—the dull, village English mob, born and bred in the gutter, absolutely devoid of ambition or ideals, sullen, stupid, incredibly gross.

I heard her speak to such a mob, numbering many thousands, while I was in London last November. It was a terrific experience and I will confess to being a pathetic coward at merely finding myself surrounded by such lawless hooligans, rough young men for the most part, ragged, hungry, unwashed, unshaven.

"You boys," she would say, "you haven't got much, but what you have got you owe to your mothers. Now, don't you? If any of you ever even knew your fathers? Your mothers, poor wretches, they didn't count for much, they weren't pretty mothers, comfortable mothers, nor even good mothers—but they did their best by you boys, and considering they had nothing, they gave you even more than they had. How backs, their own poor, bleary eyes to do it on, they managed to make you into pretty decent fellows. Now, if your fathers had done their duty by your mothers and kept some sort of roof over your heads, called home, you'd have had some kind of a chance, wouldn't you? But women are cheap in England, nobody cares about women. What if they are the mothers of boys like you, nobody cares. Your mothers were despised and ill-treated by your fathers, despised, overworked and underpaid by the factory boss, despised and politically oppressed by the government.

"Now, boys, it's your and my job to alter this state of affairs. And we believe that votes for women will help to do it." And so on, laying great stress upon the improvement in labor conditions since the laborer got the vote, and so forth.

And those young hooligans, not understanding all of it, but getting at least a germ of the idea into their thick heads, depending as they do on their brute force to get what they want as a rule, place themselves at her disposal and ask nothing but a good fight. She generally gives it to them, and considering the terrible, undisciplined fire she plays with it is a wonder there have not been far more serious conflagrations in London than has been the case. To take Sylvia Pankhurst prisoner it has required an army of a thousand police, with batons and many rounds. They have achieved the victory eight times, only to let her loose several days later, under the cat and mouse act, to prevent her drying on their hands.

So Asquith, the weak and vacillating Prime Minister of Great Britain, has climbed down and knelt to lawlessness—the price he has had to pay for a government of foolishness and pandering to the mob, and the blindness in not recognizing the women of the country as human beings while they were yet employing constitutional methods of advancing their cause.

No well-regulated attorney will get his name on the indictment for any less than a half-dozen readings of the Superior Court.

The French did not feel so bad over loss of golf games at the hands of the Outimet. They're the only folks who pronounce his name.

There are more than 100,000 men in California, and they are all to be kept in the State, Spring and Fall, and every evening at 5 o'clock.

A Long Beach man, over the natives who have come to spend the summer, is looking for something that is not to rid the house of ants.

The trouble about some of the summer fashions for the ladies is that they show too much of the white towel, and is standing with her back toward the sun.

It would add to the picturesqueness of the San Francisco show if England would send a delegation of military men. California would agree to lead them.

Tom Lipton may be a masterpiece of ing by the way in which the American tor sets through the water in his boat, he is able to get the "fute" out of the water.

Between loyalty to the president, President Wilson, and a desire to be to fix their fences, the Democratic bers of Congress are having all kinds of heartache.

Increased cloudiness, much water, extreme humidity are the day's prediction for the City of Angels. It will not hit it exactly, but it will be very near it.

Gail Borden, the milk millionaire, been served with a summons in a divorce suit involving domestic relations, appears to be unable to keep his sugar in the cranberries.

Who placed the padlock on the door of Consul Silliman when he reached London? "Somebody did," as Uncle Sam in "Shore Acres" said when he found sugar in the cranberries.

If President Wilson insists upon remaining in session until it has been of his bill it is quite possible that Champ Clark might lose all his sugar in the name of the candidate in 1916.

Six thousand delegates to the conference of the Church of the Holy Spirit at Seattle, sang gospel hymns and musical accompaniment. To the old-time simile the cheerful "lined out" the words.

MASTERHOOD.
 By Harry Swenson.
 Alert, I strain each nerve to win. Time grimly passes on my hand. The mind must play at chess with fate. The soul be master of its land.

The fields of life where we are born. With opportunities are given. Chance puts the sticks in the hand. And each must grapple in his own.

The trailing weeds that lagged behind. Lie buried in the dust of life. The pine tree on the mountain top. Has never stayed in its own life.

Life's ship sails on through waves. Its course is for some distant shore. I must not miss one forward step. I dare not be an ocean's orphan.

I cannot lash the bolts and nuts. Each day the tide is at our feet. There's something when the water rises. That starts a fever in the street.

There's something when the water rises. They still will rule who rule the sea. They still will serve who serve the sea.

BIG LEAGUE WAR IS ON; CHASE PLAYS WITH FEDS.

Comiskey, Upon Hearing of the Jump of His Star First Sacker, Says that He Will Enjoin Him from Playing Again—Ty Cobb Threatens to Jump to the Outlaws Because of Fight With a Butcher.
(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

CHICAGO, June 21.—Hal Chase, star first-baseman of the Chicago American League team, jumped to the Buffalo Federals today and played his first game with the Bisons against Joe Tinker's club this afternoon at the North Side Park.
President Comiskey and Manager Callahan of the White Sox did not know that Chase had taken the jump until 3 o'clock this afternoon when it was time to start the game with the Boston Red Sox. It developed then that Hal had been to the Sox park early in the morning, packed up his belongings and reported to the Buffalo club. Chase said he had given Comiskey ten days' notice to change his contract, but the White Sox owner paid no attention to it.
After the game at the North Side, where Chase was warmly greeted by 10,000 fans who witnessed the game, Hal jumped into a waiting taxicab and was whisked away toward the loop district. Business Manager Carroll of the Buffalo Federals said that Chase would appear in the line-up here tomorrow. President Comiskey says he will have papers served on Chase if he appears.

COMISKEY TO THE RESCUE.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CHICAGO, June 21.—Steps will be taken tomorrow to restrain Hal Chase, former American League star, from playing another game with the Buffalo Federals, according to an announcement tonight by Charles A. Comiskey, president of the Chicago Americans, after he had been informed that Chase had played in today's Federal game.
Had he known of Chase's intention today, immediate legal action would have been taken, said Comiskey. Chase gave no hints of his plans at the American League park and when he failed to appear for the game today, Fournier was sent in as a substitute.

TY COBB MAY JUMP.
(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
DETROIT, June 21.—Will Tyrus Raymond Cobb jump to the Federal League? According to a statement by the premier batsman of the American League, if publicity is given to the latest escapade of the hot-headed southerner he will do so. While being questioned at Bethune-avenue Police Station late last night regarding his fight with William L. Carpenter, a butcher, who told Mrs. Cobb he didn't want the Cobb family for patrons, he made the following statement to newspaper reporters:
"If a line of this gets into the newspapers I'm ruined. Why they'll hoot me off the diamond and I'll have to forget the American League and go over to the Federals or stop playing ball."

COAST TENNIS TITLE AT STAKE AT SAN JOSE.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SAN JOSE, June 21.—The twenty-seventh annual tournament for the lawn tennis championship of the Pacific Coast will open tomorrow at San Jose on the courts of the Napa Park Tennis Club. The event will comprise men's and women's singles, men's and women's doubles, mixed doubles, junior singles and doubles, mixed doubles and consolation tournaments in each of the main events.
A successful tourney is assured by an entry list of thirty leading men players and sixteen ladies, of whom more than one-quarter are rated among the twenty strongest men and the twenty strongest women players of America.
One of the features of the tourney will be a series of exhibition matches at the end of this week in which McLaughlin, Johnston, Potrell and Griffin will be seen in action, and this will be the last of a series of these men in Northern California tennis before they leave to take part in the leading eastern tennis tourneys and in the Davis cup competition. Bundy is unable to compete at San Jose as his presence is demanded in New York by the National Tennis Association earlier than was expected.
For the first time since the Coast championship was established, it will be held on clay courts. But all the players who have tested the courts so far have declared themselves delighted with the playing surface.
The drawings for the men and women singles have been made and the players will meet as follows:
Men's singles, preliminary round—Detrick vs. E. Nourse, W. Davis vs. E. Costello, W. Knowlton vs. E. Potrell, H. Haight vs. McCray, H. W. Johnston vs. D. Patterson, J. C. Rohlf vs. M. Evans, J. A. Brackett vs. E. A. Klein, C. Gardner vs. Van Vleet, G. Finkenfeldt vs. J. Lewis, L. Straum vs. W. Johnson, C. Griffin vs. E. Otis, E. V. Weller vs. E. F. Suckney.
First round, upper half—Miles vs. Detrick.
First round, lower half—F. Parton vs. R. Roberts.
Women's singles, preliminary round—Miss S. Wood vs. I. Dorman, Mrs. H. A. Memeyer vs. Miss G. Mitchell, Miss C. Tarleton vs. Mrs. E. P. Cook, Mrs. N. E. Schofield vs. Miss E. Tennant, Mrs. S. C. Maynard vs. Miss A. Myers.
First round, upper half—Miss D. Upham, A. Bye.
First round, lower half—Miss M. Wale vs. Miss H. Baker.

NEW MOTORBOAT IS REAL PALACE ON THE WATER.

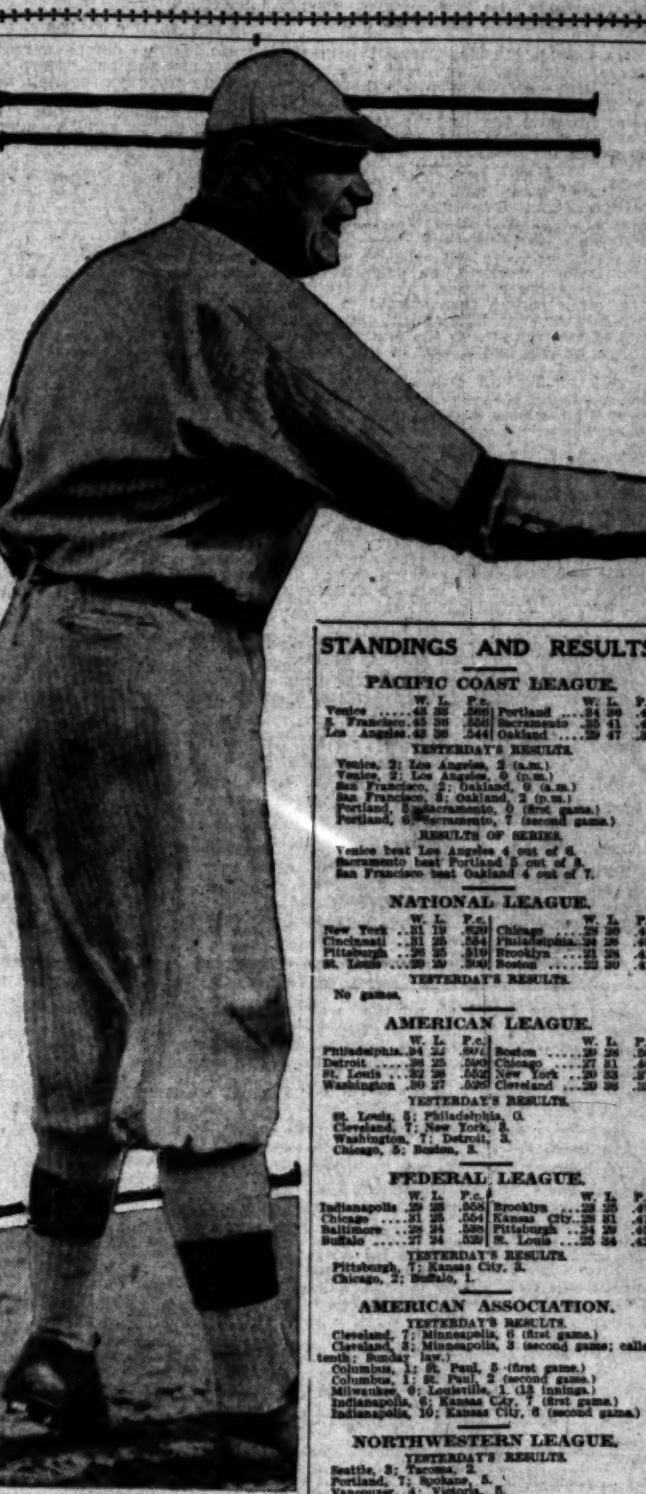

SAFETY first on sea as well as land has been practiced by G. Allen Hancock in the building of his palatial motor boat Veleo, which yesterday was trialed in the waters of San Pedro Harbor.
Mr. Hancock has a boat which is without parallel on the Coast, having put in a great deal of time aiding in the designing and building of the craft.
The Veleo is of the "torpedo boat" type of motor boat, and her two engines of 210 horsepower develop a speed of sixteen or seventeen knots. But the men who installed the huge engines which drive twin screws say that she can develop a speed nearer twenty knots.
Of fifty tons' displacement, the Veleo is seventy-seven feet over all, has a fourteen-foot beam, and five feet draft. The hull has a bent oak frame and Oregon pine planking. The deck and deckhouses are finished in teak. Below decks the rooms are in white and gold, heavily enameled.
The pilot house and owner's room are abaft the raised deck forward. The pilot house is fitted with all the latest in instruments of navigation, and is finished in mahogany. The owner's room adjoining is finished in white and gold. There are staterooms on both sides of the cabin, and here repose the great variety of musical instruments.
Forward of the cabin is a double stateroom, with lavatory and all modern fittings. Aboard the cabin is the galley, electric stove, refrigerator, and next the galley is the engine room, with one 150-horse power Eastern Standard engine, and one auxiliary

The Veleo, belonging to Allan Hancock and built by the Banning shipyard in Mormon Island, which is considered as being the most palatial motor boat ever built on the Coast.

EXCITING THINGS THAT HAPPENED LAST WEEK.

LOS ANGELES dropped from first to third place, while Venice rose from third to first. The Seals remained in second position.
Roy Hitt beat the Angels twice, and Stroud took a pair from the Ducks.
"Rowdy" Elliott lost his place as batting king of the Coast League. Catcher Boles of the Angels was put out of the game for a week with an injured finger.
Kid Mohler and Slagle were released by the Sacramento club. Attendance improved all over the league and interest seemed greater in all the games.
Not a pinch hitter in the Coast League made a hit during the entire week. This is a new record.
"Kid" Ehmke lost his second game of the year.

Here, look at this.
Any of you guys that think a fat man can't pitch take a look at the record put up by Roy Hitt in his last five games, allowing only on run.

JUNIOR GOLFERS PLAY AT CHICAGO.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
CHICAGO, June 21.—The junior championship of the Western Golf Association will be played on the course of the Chicago Golf club at Wheaton, July 21, 22 and 23, according to an announcement here today by R. R. Stone, secretary. The tournament is open to amateurs in the United States and Canada, younger than 19 years.
There will be a qualifying round of 18 holes medal play. The 16 for the second flight, and the third sixteen for the third flight.

LORD LORIS WINS STEEPLECHASE.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND P.)
PARIS, June 21.—The Grand Steeplechase de Paris, at 4 1/2 miles, and valued at $50,000, run over the Autouil track today, was won by James Hennessy's chestnut horse Lord Loris. Sydney Platt's bay colt Clitias was second and L. Fraix's Marteau II third. Lord Loris won easily by three lengths. He was at four to one in the betting. Clitias was 24 to 1 and Marteau II, 27 to 1.
Heavy showers marred the social character of the meeting and made heavy going. President Poincare and many of the diplomatic corps were present, however.

BIG FOUR IN POLO INVITED.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SAN DIEGO, June 21.—An invitation has been sent by Maj. Colin G. Ross on behalf of the Coronado Country Club to the American polo team which recently participated in the international games to take part in the games and tournament at Coronado, commencing January 1, 1915. It is hoped by local poloists the invitation will be accepted that Secretary Hazard of the American Polo Association may be convinced of what is regarded by western polo players as his recent mistake in stating there are no players of championship caliber in the West.

Veteran Southpaw Hangs Up Another Shut-out.

Drawn Battle Is Played in the Morning.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Roy Hitt placed a dent in a popular idol yesterday, going to prove that he is a person in whom the milk of human kindness long since turned to clabber.
Think of a grown man, with fully developed biceps, beating up a roving and tender boy from whom upper lip the virgin fuzz has not yet been scraped! Shame, Roy, shame.
The much-touted and oft-postponed duel between Hitt and Ehmke was staged at 2:30 p.m. as per previous announcement. The arrangement caught the popular fancy, and no less than 12,000 lay brethren were present.

ent. It required no official count to prove that it was the fastest gathering of the season, not excepting opening day, the men exhibiting before congested stands and bleachers. Concession has not been a popular allment this year.
Gledale and Tropico packed up the basket lunches and moved out to the park for the day. It was said that the entire population of these towns was present. This is a mistake. One family of three failed to arrive, their machine breaking down on their way. But their hearts were in the right place.

SOME BATTLE.

Ehmke was better, 2 to 6, for his second reverse of the season. There was no disgrace tied to the defeat. His pals could do nothing for him, Hitt having them feasting out of his soiled and caulked southpaw. The youngster held the Tigers to five hits. A brace of these were bunched with a walk in the fourth, two runs flashed across and his performance was damaged beyond repair. Ehmke was hardly at his best, the four innings which he pitched Friday tending to take some of the "edge" off his delivery.

It was Hitt's fifth straight win, four of which have been shutouts. The portly gentleman has been scored off but once in forty-five innings. Roy was touched up seven times, three of the touches being made by Bill Abbot. A brace of these were bunched in the pinches. The Angels were on the verge of scoring in the fourth, but their hopes withered when the "squeaky" play was dragged out of retirement and completely frustrated.
This victory, following a stubborn 2 to 2 draw at Hagan's men, four games to two. The Angel "rooters" will now start a petition to have Hap fired.

ROY WABLES.

Los Angeles started to get rough with Hitt almost before he doubled to put up his guard. Moore doubled to right center with one out. Maggert fled to Carlisle, and Abstein forced his chancy away.
Right after this Hap Maggert pulled off one of the brightest bits of baseball observed since King Kelly went into retirement. And thereby hangs a tale of a run falling to retire by a mere matter of one step. After Carlisle and Leard had been retired in the first, Kane singled, Johnson knocking down the blow in short center. Johnny stole second. Dick Bayless, prime ball buster, of the Venice crew, almost took a young and promising toe off Ehmke with a single that cut second base in two and shot on into center. Kane was off for the plate. Bayless, expecting a throw home, rounded first and started toward second. Maggert saw the futility of cutting off Kane wheeled and threw on a line to Abstein. Bayless, who was not more than two feet from the base, started back, but Hitt had the ball on him for the third out with Kane less than a stride from the plate. It required quite a little explanation on the part of Mr. Hayse to make the situation clear to the many people, who seemed to feel a vital interest in what had actually taken place.

A NEAR SCORE.

The remainder of the game was played in the fourth. Kane ran back and robbed Maggert of a budding home run. Hitt drew his "shadow ball" out of concealment and threw it to Abstein. Hitt hit it way out in the bright sunshine of left field for two bases. Ellis singled over second to Leard, Abstein taking third. With Johnson at bat that dear old "squeaky" play was dragged forth. Hitt, having reached the age of maturity and in a Bad Way and Line-up Disordered—Getting Gay With Ed Finney's Beas—Beavers Here Tomorrow—Tigers Go North for Three Days—Timely Hits by Bayless.

REDIE SAYS BEAVERS AREN'T WARMED UP YET.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

Los Angeles plays Portland, Sacramento and San Francisco in the order named. While away the Tigers will pay their respects to San Francisco, Portland and Oakland.

Oakland opens in Sacramento today. Give the Beas another high-class pitcher and they would become right bothersome. And then there is Mr. Shinn to be taken into consideration. When his base-stealing leg starts. The last half of this race is going to be a heart breaker.

Glad He's Gone.

Bill James, who as a member of the Portland club last season, the people here learned greatly to dislike, yesterday blanketed the Athletics. We feel deeply indebted to the Browns for having drafted him.

Bayless the Power Behind.

Pitchers are finding it dangerous to throw anything near the plate with Bayless up and men on bases.

Dick's stalwart batting eye played a leading part in winning the series. He started out Tuesday by putting the ball in the right-field bleachers with Kane on first.

Wednesday, while he didn't drive anybody across, an error was made on one of his smashes that put the Tigers in front.

Thursday he singled Leard in with the winning run in the eighth. Friday, his only contribution was a sacrifice, but this figured in the only run scored by the Angels. This game was a landmark for the Angels. Saturday he remained perfectly dormant, and again the Angels won.

Yesterday morning it was his single in the first that scored Carlisle, and in the afternoon he drove Leard across with the only tally needed to defeat Khamke.

Bayless resembles Sam Crawford in everything except size.

The Dope to Date.

By way of keeping you posted on the games, which each club has won and lost from the other follows:

| Team | W | L | W. P. C. | P. C. | W. P. C. | P. C. |

Players Want Packed Houses.

Sordid, low down money is not everything to ballplayers. Being human, they do not scorn it, and no player has ever been known to hide out to escape detection when the pay car called around on the 1st and 15th of the month.

But even so, there are other things that enter into the life of a diamond athlete. One of these is the vicissitudes of the proletariat of the bleachers, and the adulation of the patriots in the grand stand.

These things are simply nutriment to them. Give them plenty of proletariats and patriots, with a few of the middle class mixed in, and they will play their heads off. But the batting eye grows dim when compelled to gaze upon a waste of vacant unutilized benches, and the muscles of the throwing arm and the shank flag and become flabby unless spurred into action by the masculine roar of approval and the piercing feminine shriek of approbation.

That all of this is perfectly true is shown by conditions in Montreal, which is located in the International League. The players, languishing from lack of excitement, and deeply hurt by lack of support, bowled from the public and press, made a demand on President Litchfield that they either be sold or the club moved bodily to some other city. These men were as well paid as any in the league, but grew tired of playing before empty houses. They yearned for appreciation, and a few laudatory remarks. Their demand was followed by the appointment of Dan Howley as manager of the club, the former Portlander succeeding "Kitty" Bransfield. This served temporarily to placate them, but they never will be entirely happy until transplanted to United States soil, which is the only proper place for a ballplayer. Baseball is not appreciated in foreign lands. It was made for home consumption.

DEFENDERS ARE TO RACE TOMORROW.

SAN FRANCISCO ENDS SLUMP AND TAKES SECOND PLACE.

Leftfield and Fernoll Do Yomman Slab Work for Bay City, Oakland Being Blanked in First Game Despite the Accumulation of Seven Hits.

(BY A. F. MOORE WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, June 21.—San Francisco apparently showed that it had emerged from its slump today, took a double-header from Oakland, cleaned up the series, four to three, and jumped back into second place. The scores were: Morning game, 3 to 0; afternoon game, 3 to 1.

Leftfield was hit seven times in the morning by the Oakland, but they were not run-producing tangles. Priest allowed only four hits, but could not stop a brace of runs in the fourth.

Tobin's three safeties in the afternoon helped the Seals to win while Geyer was shooting them over. Geyer quit in the sixth, when the Oaks bunched their hits and scored a couple of runs. Fernoll was effective and assisted his victory with two hits out of three times up.

LIQUIDIST WILL SCRAP WILLARD.

Emil Liquidist is preparing today for a four-round exhibition with Jess Willard at the Western Athletic Club next Saturday night. Liquidist won his right to be considered as the best amateur heavyweight in the south, when he defeated Lou Ranson in an elimination bout, at the Western, Saturday night.

Ranson gave his opponent a battle for the honor of meeting Willard, but could not last more than three rounds. His wind gave out after he had put up a slashing fight that kept nearly 500 fans on their feet from the gone.

Other results were as follows: Eddie Manning stopped Paddy Dillon in two rounds; George Lawrence fought a draw with Eddie Abdul; Paddy Mills won decisively over Don Campbell; Charley de Long earned a draw with Bob Anderson; and Danny Solomon and Dick Brunson also drew out even.

FITZGERALD OF SEALS IS LEADING COAST SLUGGER.

"Rowdy" Elliott's Sudden Slump Shoves Him Down Under Fitzgerald, Buddy Ryan, Del Howard and Kaylor—Beavers Lead in Team Batting, With Tigers and Angels at the Bottom.

BY CLYDE A. BRUCKMAN.

"ROWDY" ELLIOTT fell thirty-one points in the batting averages during the past week. He fell so hard that the entire league suffered from the shock and four men were heaved above the Venice slugger. Justine Fitzgerald, the "Ryco" bullet, is again leading the gang with an average of .337, Buddy Ryan comes next with .333, Kaylor and Howard are tied with .331 apiece and "Rowdy" comes along in fifth position with .323. Quite some fall.

The Beavers continue to annoy the Coast League pitchers more than any other club by reason of their .376 team batting average. The scrappy Sacramento club is a close second, having climbed to .370 during the week.

Venice is leading the league in the percentage column, but are fighting with Angels for the cellar in batting. The Angels hold that highly coveted position at present with .355, while the Tigers rest one point ahead. The theory that batting wins ball games will have to be revised in the Coast League, where the poorest batting teams stand highest in the procession.

Rodgers of Portland increased his lead in the stolen base realm and now has grabbed thirty-two, with Young still second with his twenty-four.

The averages:

REDLANDS, June 21.—A party of vacationists passed through the city yesterday on their way to Los Angeles from Bear Lake, where they had spent a ten days' vacation enjoying some fine fishing.

The results of their latest catch were brought along and included ten trout, measuring from sixteen to twenty inches each. The members of the party were loud in their praises of the valley as a fine place for an outing and for sport. They were traveling in two autos and the party included Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bennett's Play Subject of Sunday Sermon.

BY GARDNER BRADFORD.

Wonder what happened to May Robson. She was supposed to have come to the Majestic after the Nat Goodwin engagement, but instead there will be offered Mimi Aguilera the Italian tragedienne who has been creating such a furore all over the country.

Have the whole repertoire yet, but understand that one of the pieces will be "Zaza" which helped make Leslie Carter famous, though in this instance I believe that it will be done in Italian or French.

Time was when the foreign speaking player had hard sledding, but now-a-days those who can't understand are no worse off than going to the movies, the latter having trained audiences to follow a story by action rather than words.

And tonight is the night when several things are doing. Of course Dick Bennett in "Damaged Goods" opens at the Majestic, and Nat Goodwin in "Never Say Die" will be the Maltese attraction, while in the afternoon one is to get first peak at the Orpheum contemporary bill which will offer Eddie Foy and the whole Foy family. Beside Wynn Lillian Shaw, Mathews and Shays, and a lot more.

Not to be outdone, John Blackwell at his Jardin d'Amour has inaugurated "Movie Monday" and this first one will have for its hostess Mabel Normand. It will be quite some time.

Even Clume's is out of the ordinary, as tonight he has given over the Auditorium to the Rialto, and the first one will be "East Lynne" and "Seven Days" will be the attraction.

And at the other end of town, at the Woodley, the biggest film of the year, Upton Sinclair's "The Jungle" will be shown, and promises to be a regular riot.

And who do you think blew into the sanctum last night. Dick Ferris, with the announcement that Thursday he and Florence Stone go to Minneapolis where Florence is to star at the Shubert from right to twelve weeks in the Belasco success "Years of Discretion."

I had a peek at the contract and it is some engagement.

Also heard from Joe Barnett, the Los Angeles man who scored so distinctly in "The Red Rose" and "Madame Phryne." She has been engaged as principal support to Hazel Dawn, who, as you know, became famous through "The Pink Lady."

Wonder who it is that is sending out all the unreliable news. Right now all the eastern papers are printing interviews with Alexander Farrago when as a matter of fact he is still on the Coast and due here in Los Angeles some time before Christmas.

And De Wolf Hopper also kicks in with information that he will make "The Tiesman of the Guards" at Los Angeles next season with it.

He and Col. Braden, now director of the Galety companies, used to work together, which reminds me that Braden has organized his "Foe of Song Bone" stars into a baseball team, which is to challenge the Empress and Fanny's aggregations, not forgetting the Foy nine.

Morocco is due in Chicago today and will see the second performance in that city of "Fog O' My Heart," with Peggy O'Neill in the title role. The opening is at night, and that the die is cast. It will probably be war to the finish with Manners and Laurette Taylor.

Before he went, and till this minute I forgot all about it, he announced that Harrison Ford will make his reappearance at the Burbank as "The Remittance Man," in which George Fawcett made such a tremendous hit. This will not be till after "Bought and Paid For."

New sermons really have no place in this column, but inasmuch as Rev. Baker P. Lee used "Damaged Goods" as his topic yesterday morning, and there seems no other proper place for it in the paper, here it is.

"The most powerful, the most sensible, the most needed lesson in the world today is contained in the remarkable play, 'Damaged Goods,' which is to be presented in Los Angeles by Richard Bennett this week, and I want every member of this church to see it."

"The author of this play," continued Dr. Lee, "is Brieux, the loftiest mountain peak rising from the desert plain of French literature since the time of Moliere. In 'Damaged Goods' he points the way to a nobler and a healthier humanity by an understanding of the fundamental facts of life. He shows us that ignorance is not in essence, and that only through knowledge can we combat the physical ills of the world. Ninety per cent. of the sufferings due to tuberculosis, to smallpox and to other infectious diseases have been brought about by ignorance, and 99 per cent. of the ills to which the flesh is heir as a result of other diseases is due to ignorance, an ignorance which prudence would perpetuate. But we owe it to the coming generations that they should not be born into the world with moral curvature of the spine."

"It is inconceivable that there are people in the world who see indelicacy in the truth about the human body, and most of all in the sublime truths concerning the greatest gift which God has entrusted to man, the gift of the power of procreation—the most Godlike, most divine gift in the world."

"I shall take my two sons to see this play because I want them to be armed with knowledge to combat the evil and the temptations of the world. I wish that every father in this city would have his boy see this Characteristic scene from "Never Say Die," which Nat Goodwin brings to the Majestic Theater tonight. The young lady is Margaret Moreland, the latest Mrs. Goodwin, and leading woman of the company.

At Long Beach. COLUMBINE CAPTURES CUP; MISCHIEF HAS HARD LUCK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, June 21.—Columbine, first; Mischief II, second; Siwash, third. This was the result today of the yacht race for the Erkenbrecker cup, staged by the Sunset Yacht Club, one of the prettiest races ever sailed in the pleasant waters of the channel.

The South Coast yacht event, Columbine, won by 5:47 minutes corrected time, over Hyman's boat Mischief II, but only because the latter lost her balloons on the run home, which was far behind the second boat, and Katrika, and Mischief, which started, did not finish, owing to the variable winds in the early part of the race. Commodore Mitchell's Yankee Girl, which carried, besides the owner, Byron Erkenbrecker, Fred F. W. Paramore, and Edward Paramore, of Pasadena, and the yachtsman, Attorney Ingall Bull and Mr. Kerwick, of Los Angeles, accompanied the yacht anchored in front of Hotel Virginia. They got away in fine shape.

The starting time of the boats was as follows: Mischief, 10:05; Katrika, 10:05; Siwash, 10:04; Mist, 10:05; Columbine, 10:05.

Hyman in Mischief, aided and well-abetted by Mate Stone, brought his boat to the stake off the breakwater, and the excellent shape of the South Coast Columbine at the end of the race.

play, and I wish that every mother would take her daughter to see it. I do not advise girls of from 16 to 20 years of age to go to see this play with young men, but I do not want them to miss the opportunity of seeing this great lesson. I am glad that provision has been made for the young women of Los Angeles, for it has been announced that there are to be midweek matinees at which only women will be admitted. There will not be any men there, even, at these matinees.

"Because I believe so deeply in the power of the truth conveyed in this play, I have invited Richard Bennett to give a reading from 'Damaged Goods' in this pulpit next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Those of you who do not wish to come may stay away, but I want everyone in this congregation to know that Brieux's message, as delivered by Mr. Bennett and his associates, has my earnest endorsement."

This endorsement of "Damaged Goods" by Dr. Lee is especially significant in the light of a sensational attack made upon the play by a Los Angeles social worker who last week filed a suit in the Superior Court asking for an injunction to restrain Manager W. T. Wyatt from allowing the play to be presented in Los Angeles, and for an order that the play be removed from the house during Richard Bennett's engagement there.

DOUBLE-CROSSED, SAY SEINERS.

MARKET FISHERMEN WROTH AT BAILEY AND WICKERSHAM
MURKS DEFIANCE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
LOS ANGELES HARBOR, June 20.—News that the People's Fish and Game Protective Association of San Francisco had decided to abandon the fight to repeal the three-mile sealing law at Catalina, according to a dispatch in today's Times from Avalon, giving publicity to a telegram from E. M. Bailey, secretary of the association, to the president of the Audi-bon Society of Pasadena, was received with interest by market fishermen here.

"W. H. Wickersham, secretary of the market fishermen's organization, roundly denounced Bailey and accused him of 'double-crossing' the market fishermen. 'We shall have nothing further to do with Bailey's organization,' said Wickersham today, 'and will take our chances in getting a square deal from the State Legislature in revising the fish and game laws.'

"When we learned of Bailey's organization we decided to adopt the same name for our organization and co-operate with him. We advanced $50 to help him pay the expenses of securing signatures to an initiative measure to revise the fish and game laws of the entire State."

"When it came to getting a guarantee that the changes we had agreed upon would go into the proposed measure the deal fell through. We agreed to put the money in escrow until the petitions were printed and circulated, but Bailey finally telegraphed us that unless we paid over the money to a man we did not know at once, the changes we proposed would not go into the measure."

"I am not surprised to hear that Bailey is now flirting with the sportsmen and proposing to perpetuate the very injustices he once proposed to remove for a consideration. I understand the hotel men have contributed to his scheme, and also the tuna packers, but so far as the market fishermen are concerned, we do not propose to have anything further to do with him."

The following are the dates fixed for the International Rugby football matches in Great Britain, to be played next season: England vs. Wales in Wales, January 15, 1915; England vs. France, at Twickenham, January 30, 1915; England vs. Ireland in Ireland, February 13, 1915; England vs. Scotland at Twickenham, March 20, 1915.

Ragged, Playing Marks Double-Header—Solons Make Twenty Hits in Afternoon—Portland Shines With Long Drive—Host of Errors Figure in Contest.

[BY A. P. MONT WIRE.]
SACRAMENTO, June 21.—After losing a ragged game, 5 to 0, in the morning, the Sacramento Wolves continued to play ragged ball for eight innings behind Salter Stroud in the afternoon. As a result, Portland had a 4-to-1 lead, going into the last of the ninth. West had relieved Pitcher Rieger two innings before and was sailing along smoothly, having fanned three men in the eighth. But to the ninth the Wolves hammered out five singles in a row for three runs. Harry Hamann, with his fourth hit of the night, the Wolves piled up twenty hits in the afternoon game, all of them singles; the Beavers made eight home runs, but even with these, were dependent on Sacramento's three errors for four of their runs.

Hit Trims Ehmke.

pipe judgment, threw one up so wide that Johnson could not have hit it with the mast of the yacht Resolute. Poor Bill was forced to stop flat-footed within ten feet of the plate, and the simple ceremony of placing the ball in his glove was performed by Elliott. Johnson grounded to Leard, and the Angel section lapsed into sternal silence.

Leard opened the fourth for Venice by walking. Ehmke really had Bill struck out, but his ump saw it in another light. Kane sacrificed. There is no denying this fellow Bayless in a pinch. There are just two ways to play safe with Bayless in situations of this kind. One is for the pitcher to walk him and the other is for the catcher to sandbag him. Neither of these things being done, Dick drove a single to left. Hills charged in and made a daisy daisy of the ball while going at full tilt. Without pausing to get himself made a witness of a throw home, but the swift Leard traveled across the plate on his wishbone about two feet in front of the ball.

SURE-SHOT BROOKS Bayless roamed down to second on the play, and surged home when Leard dropped a single in right center. Lou tried to steal, but Brooks couldn't stand for it. Horton walked. He also endeavored to ravish second, but Brooks preserved the peace.

Ehmke was given a furlough in the seventh to let Meek bat for him. Accompanied by Trainer Finley, his trip from the bench to the right field exit was one continuous ovation. Tall, trimly built, and well-blanketed, a countless trainer at his side, the picture presented was that of a thoroughbred being led from the race course by a solicitous groom.

Musser retired the Tigers with neatness and dispatch in the eighth, being greatly abetted by Brooks, who climbed the wire netting to get Elliott's foul.

Los Angeles did a little blinding in the ninth. Abstein hit to left with one out. Elliott fouled the ball near home plate, with one foot in the Los Angeles water bucket, made a great catch. This should not worry "Rowdy." A little water is not a bad thing for the cool Johnson hit to left, putting Abstein on second. Hill suddenly remembered that it is two weeks until the Fourth, and would not permit any more fireworks, Metzger grounding to Litchi, his despatched contemporary.

The people of Venice did themselves proud. They arose early, dressed carefully and then bathed. The hour of 10:30 found them at the ball park in large numbers. Los Angeles also sent down a large and intelligent contingent. The result was the largest morning crowd since Venice was placed on the baseball map.

Jack Ryan and Ed Klepper were the heroes of the day. Ryan, who had a run in the first, the same being produced by Carlisle's walk, Leard's sacrifice and the customary "pinch hit" by Bayless. For the remainder of the morning, Ryan pitched well of the shutout variety, but his support insisted on handing Venice a run in the ninth, thereby depriving him of deserved laurels.

GUARD SEES EVERY MOVE.

Twenty-two Officers Watch Over One Who'd Wed.

Still Determined to Marry Missionary Maid.

Fathers' Day Observed in Y.M.C.A. Meeting.

PARADISE, June 21.—Lester Crawford, whose efforts to wed Miss Laura Koppe, a frail little graduate of the Nazarene University here, that the two might become missionaries in Japan, led to a breach between himself and his father, which was followed by a train of arrests, counter-arrests, escapes and other experiences, passed the day quietly here yesterday as the ward of Chief of Police McIntyre.

The Chief placed a guard over him and told the two to amuse themselves in whatever way they liked and go wherever they chose, so long as they remained away from Miss Koppe and from the young man's father, Francis E. Crawford, of No. 1211 North Mentor avenue.

Young Crawford spent a part of the afternoon at Chief McIntyre's office figuring up how many guards have been placed over him since the rapid action part of his experiences began with his escape from the Bishop Sanatorium in South Pasadena a week ago last Friday night. He counted twenty-two peace officers and detectives.

During this time he had five midnight automobile rides, in several of which he was taken over serpentine courses that pursuers might not be able to pick up the trail. He also took two long rambles on foot, one after he escaped from the sanatorium in South Pasadena, and the other after he had returned to Pasadena after his escape from a guard at San Bernardino last Wednesday, at which time he made his way to the mountains back of Hollywood, where he camped out overnight.

CUT DOWN TO ONE.

"It feels very funny," he said yesterday, "to be here with but a single guard when I have been used to having so many. I had two at the hospital; six all told, if I remember right, a week ago last Saturday night when I was captured here and taken to South Pasadena by the way of Oak Knoll and I don't know how many other places; four at San Bernardino, where, however, all finally left me but one, and he went to sleep so that escape was easy; six again last night when I was brought from Los Angeles to Pasadena; one now, and the others came in somewhere along the line. There have been so many I can't remember just where they all were.

I have almost come to the conclusion that I shall turn my experiences into a motion-picture scenario. There has been plenty of action. It ought to make a hit.

"But, seriously, this is what I intend to do. I intend to stay right here until Miss Koppe and I may marry, and marry here in Pasadena, before all our friends. There will be no running away. If we had wanted to do that we could have done so a long time ago. These novel-like adventures are all very interesting, but they do not trouble me a bit. We are simply waiting until we can marry and that is all there is to it."

"My father has tried in every way to keep us from marrying. He even tried to keep Miss Koppe from graduating at the Nazarene College by having charges of some kind—I never learned what—preferred against her. But she graduated fixed there and though the poor girl has had a hard time of it."

Crawford, Sr., denies this assertion. THE LEGAL END.

There were no new developments in the legal end of the matter yesterday. Chief McIntyre declared that since Judge Ives has appointed him as the boy's guardian he will serve as such and try so far as possible to keep him away from those on both sides of the controversy until the case is settled in the Superior Court, probably this week.

G. J. Roeder, attorney for the youth and those who want to see the marriage consummated, declared yesterday afternoon that he will try to keep him away from those on both sides of the controversy until the case is settled in the Superior Court, probably this week.

The misdemeanor charge that was placed against Crawford in a South Pasadena Justice Court is a matter that is also claiming attention, as bail has not been fixed there and when the defendant failed to appear last Saturday morning a bench warrant was issued for his arrest, which has not yet been served.

The first Fathers' Day ever to be observed in Pasadena, although many Mothers' Days have been celebrated, was the occasion of a meeting at the auditorium of the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday which attracted so many that the large hall was filled to the doors.

The theme of the afternoon was that of a close friendship between father and son. The sermon was preached by Rev. Daniel F. Fox, pastor of the First Congregational Church.

STREET SPEAKING.

Blatant street speakers will be hit in a new ordinance to be passed at its second reading by the City Council next week. A district in which speaking will be forbidden, which will comprise the business district and part of the ocean front, will be made.

Considerable trouble has been experienced by the city authorities in keeping the Socialists, I.W.O.s and other speakers from blocking the incline at the foot of Pine avenue. This will be included in the ordinance, as well as the busy portions of Pine, Locust, American, Ocean avenue, First street and Broadway.

STREET PLAYING.

The church people are up to arms against the latest manifesto of Mayor Wheaton that he is in favor of allowing the pool halls to keep open on Sunday. Mayor Wheaton, who is the Mayor to pry off the "lid" in Long Beach will be met with overwhelming protest on the part of the large conservative element here.

After the pool halls the dance hall will be opened on Sunday," they say. The mind of the Mayor is a matter which is known to the meeting of the Council. He stated that, in his opinion, the pool halls should be opened because the howling allers are opened. In this he was supported.

SEES VISIONS OF "GOLD-DUST."

Famous Morgan Case Appeals Long Beach Mayor.

Hope for Harbor Resurvey by Next Congress.

Sunday Pool-Playing Plans Arouses Churchmen.

LONG BEACH, June 21.—Arising from its tomb in the court records of Los Angeles county the ghost of the alleged $20,000 Budd-Morgan fraud conspiracy will walk to trouble Mayor Wheaton in the Superior Court tomorrow, if the alienation case brought by the widow of "Gold Dust" Morgan is sufficiently developed.

Mayor Wheaton has been subpoenaed as a witness for the plaintiff, Mrs. Morgan. When the deputy placed the subpoena in the hands of the Mayor Friday he looked anything but pleased.

Attorney H. C. Millap, for Mrs. Morgan, wants to ask Mayor Wheaton a series of questions when Hixson is on the stand. He wants to know about those letters alleged to have been written by Wheaton to Mrs. Morgan, and about the details of the sensational raid made upon the desert cabin of Mrs. Morgan. The alleged deep-laid conspiracy to extort a huge sum of money from the Mayor is the subject of the case.

The testimony is that the widow will be gone into thoroughly, it is expected. This testimony is pertinent to the present action, and the case will be fully gone into by Attorney Millap.

BOOSTERS ENCOURAGED.

Boosters for a greater Long Beach harbor have been considerably encouraged by the action of the Congressmen from this district stating that there is great reason to expect that the appropriation for a harbor improvement will be passed in the general bill at the close of this session.

Since the Federal engineers turned down the application of the people of this city for money to help dredge and otherwise improve the harbor, the plans for another application for an appropriation have been made. It is thought that this resurvey will show the need of improvement and that the money will be developed at this point will be great after the opening of the Panama Canal. Until the government lends its monetary aid the city, proud of its harbor and of the achievements thus far, will go ahead and develop its own harbor.

FIND PEARLS IN DINING CAR.

LONG BEACH, June 21.—Two big pearls, supposed to be a portion of the costly string of pearls lost by one of the women victims of the Santa Fe wreck at Bagdad, have been found in the wrecked dining car of the limited, in the local shops for rebuilding. Officers are guarding what is left of the diner and composite car. It is expected that more of the $25,000 worth of jewelry will be recovered.

CALEXICO, June 21.—Latest reports from Volcano Lake levee and the Colorado River are most encouraging to the people of Imperial Valley as well as those in other parts of the country who have invested heavily and are convinced of the wonderful future of this section.

Many exaggerated reports have been corrected and the feeling of hope has given way to one of relief. The Colorado River is reported to be gradually falling; now about six feet below high water mark, and the break in Volcano Lake levee is becoming less threatening every hour. The water in New River has fallen a few inches in the last twenty-four hours and the end of the flood scare is no doubt in sight.

Defenders who were rushed to the break at first are now preparing to close the break as soon as the water has fallen enough and the levee will be strengthened, eliminating all flood scares of the future.

A foot-bridge has been constructed along the railway of the Calexico bridge over New River, and all bridges are standing and will probably not be much weakened by the high water.

Many exaggerated reports have been corrected and the feeling of hope has given way to one of relief. The Colorado River is reported to be gradually falling; now about six feet below high water mark, and the break in Volcano Lake levee is becoming less threatening every hour. The water in New River has fallen a few inches in the last twenty-four hours and the end of the flood scare is no doubt in sight.

Defenders who were rushed to the break at first are now preparing to close the break as soon as the water has fallen enough and the levee will be strengthened, eliminating all flood scares of the future.

A foot-bridge has been constructed along the railway of the Calexico bridge over New River, and all bridges are standing and will probably not be much weakened by the high water.

Federal Expert Declares Washington State Should Destroy All Animals Infected With the Disease. (BY DEBERT WISE—KINGMAN DISPATCH.)

TACOMA, June 31.—Dr. H. T. Graves, Federal Agricultural Department expert, has just jarred Washington State by declaring that thousands of tubercular cattle must be destroyed to stop the increase of tuberculosis among humans. He says: "More people die from tuberculosis in this State than from any other cause. We have erected fine hospitals and the State is spending thousands of dollars but to really clean Washington we must start at the beginning and rid it of tubercular cattle. Tuberculosis comes from the lower animals."

"That 8 per cent. of our milch cows suffer from tuberculosis is a very considerable estimate. It costs the State $100,000 a year to maintain them."

HIS HOTEL NAME FORGOTTEN.

Young Man on Probation Arrested at Berkeley for Forgery Because of His Lapso.

(BY DIRECT WRITER—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

BERKELEY, June 21.—Because Adolph D. Berg, just turned 18, forgot the name under which he registered at a hotel here, he is in jail and has confessed to a number of forgeries that have kept the police of this city and of Oakland busy. When arrested Berg was in the best suite in the Hotel Shattuck, reading Macaulay's History of England and phonograph was playing operatic music.

Berg came to the hotel a week ago, and registered as "Irvin T. Morgan, San Francisco." Some fine articles well as how her sister died declaring that her husband had poisoned her.

Bossen is a timber cruiser who lived on a small farm near Springfield with his young wife and 6-month-old child. The wife died suddenly on March 20. One Mrs. Levens in the house, as well as Dollie Levens was awakened early in the morning by sobs of the woman. They found Bossen attending her and heard her dying accusation that Bossen poisoned her.

The body was buried without an inquest, but the following day, based upon suspicious circumstances, the District Attorney ordered the body exhumed. Bossen was then arrested. The motive suggested besides his alleged infatuation for Dollie is that he sought the life insurance, which had been transferred to his name two months ago. He must have traveled as she does, and be able to indulge her in it. Her will must be his law. He must humor her every whim.

Those who love her hope she will find such a man, but they doubt it. When love comes to her, taking the misad of her heart by storm, he is an entirely different sort of hero from the one she pictured in her day dreams.

Instead of being the son of a millionaire, he is an energetic, ambitious young bookkeeper, who has a decided will of his own. He is gentle, but firm, in his decision to keep his old friends, though he is not averse to adding the new ones she approves of. He has his own convictions as to what is right to do, and he insists upon adhering to them. He is proud of her, but does not believe in spoiling her by letting her know how very

 There has been a marked decrease in the price of lard, partly because prime lard is now 15 cents per pound,

One of London's Queer Trades.
 [New York Sun:] One of London's queer trades is the trade in human skin. The demand for it is constant and the supply is not. The skin is used for a variety of purposes, and the price is high. The trade is carried on in a very secret manner, and the dealers are known as "skin merchants." The trade is one of the most profitable in London, and the dealers are very wealthy.

OSBORNE SPURNS FALSE PRETENSE.

Will Not Seek Indorsement by Trick of Law.

Cannot Be Candidate of More Than One Party.

Scores "Progressive" Habit of Crookedness.

Refusing to become the candidate of more than one political party on the ground that such a move is unprincipled, Capt. H. Z. Osborne, candidate for the Republican nomination in the Tenth District, yesterday scored Gov. Johnson and other "Progressives," who are trying to fool the people by getting their names on more than one primary ballot.

Capt. Osborne said: "Referring to some of the peculiar features of the primary law of 1913, and particularly to that which permits the candidate of one party also to be presented as the candidate for nomination of another or any number of parties, I assume that the primary law was intended to be for the purpose of providing an orderly method by which the members of political parties may among themselves select the individuals of their choice to become their candidates at the regular elections. The law in no place provides that any party shall be protected from outside influence, and that the voter shall receive and be permitted to vote 'the official primary election ballot of the political party designated in his affidavit of registration, and no other.' It is not remarkable, after this stricture and very proper provision for the protection of the purity of the ballot that the following provision should have been inserted in the law:

"Nothing in this act contained shall be construed to limit the rights of any person to become the candidate of more than one political party for the same office upon complying with the requirements of the act."

ITS "CONSISTENCY." "Thus the candidate of one party—the party in whose principles he really believes, and with which he is affiliated—may become the candidate for nomination of another and opposing party—in whose principles he does not believe, and with which he is not only not affiliated, but whose tickets he would not be permitted to vote, under the provisions of the same law.

"When I became a candidate for the Republican nomination to Congress in the Tenth District, I was not aware that such an inconsistency as this was in existence. I would have said it was impossible. In going over this situation as to the primary law with some of my friends, and upon the statement that candidates for the nomination of other parties were intending to avail themselves of this easy method of having their names placed on the Republican, and possibly the Democratic ticket, I have been advised by some of my friends that 'What is sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander,' and to submit my name for the Progressive and Democratic nominations. I will do no such thing, however, no matter how advantageous it might seem, up to the minute I get the Democratic nomination, because I am not a Democrat, and I will not attempt to receive the Progressive nomination, because I am a Republican. It seems to me that there is a highly important principle involved. Political parties are supposed to stand for certain principles and policies in government. In what position would a man be, if elected, after having been nominated by two political parties of opposing political principle? How would he vote on questions involving those principles should he be elected?

"For my own part, I will not permit myself to be put in any such equivocal position. I cannot reconcile it with my sense of political or moral consistency to be a candidate of more than one political party."

UNPRINCIPLED PROCEEDINGS. "A candidate may, after nomination by any political party, without compromising his political or personal integrity, receive the votes of anybody, whether they belong to his own political party or not, but, to my mind, he cannot do so with a proper regard to his own political integrity, or go into any such vulgar and undignified scramble, where principle must give way to personal ambition. The effect of such law and practice would be to have a primary election to decide who shall be the candidates of various parties, each party deciding for itself who it regards as its best representative, to designate into a mere scramble for office, without distinction as to principle, or any other principles. Instead of being a contest on principle, it would change of politics, between individuals.

"If I am nominated, it will be as the nominee of the Republican party, and because I believe that the welfare of the country demands that the Republican party should be restored to power. If I should be nominated and elected, it will be as a candidate of one party, in whose principles I believe, and allegiance to which will not be complicated by submitting my name, or permitting it to be submitted by my friends, as a candidate for their nomination."

TEHACHEPI OPEN AGAIN. Trains for the North Over the Valley Division. Now Running on Schedule Times.

The Southern Pacific line over the Tehachepi Pass, which had been closed to travel since Thursday night, when a cloudburst in the mountains washed out 150 feet of track, and covered four miles of rails with mud, was opened for normal travel at 7 o'clock last evening. Beginning with No. 49 at 7:30 p.m., all other trains out of Los Angeles over the valley route left on schedule time.

The serious break was near Caliente where a cloudburst washed two feet deep and nearly 200 feet wide was left in place of solidly ballasted track. There also was considerable delay in removing a layer of mud two feet deep, which covered the track for several miles. The Owl and other trains over the interior line were handled over the coast division, while the repairs were in progress.

torial District, which comprises the northern end of Los Angeles county, including Pasadena, Antelope Valley, San Fernando Valley, Altadena and Glendale. Turnbull is an attorney, but formerly was editor of Economic America and writer of "Things Californian." He is against the regulation of all human conduct by law and will attempt to curtail legislation of roads with the city council.

Arthur W. Eckman, an attorney, who lives at No. 1710 West Sixth street, is a candidate for the Legislature from the Sixty-fourth Assembly District.

WANT HIM TO RUN. The candidacy of William F. Knight for County Supervisor from the First District is urged by 150 of the leading residents of Pasadena in a communication to him in which they declare that he is eminently qualified.

Knight is a former president of the Pasadena Board of Trade, is now one of the members of the County Committee that has charge of the beautification of roads with the city and has served in many public offices and upon committees.

Whittier will also have a candidate for County Supervisor from the First District at the August primaries in the person of Edward S. Cobb, a civil and hydraulic engineer and former member of the Whittier City Council. His announcement was made yesterday. Cobb was a member of the Los Angeles Aqueduct Investigating Committee last year.

At a meeting of Republican Precinct Committees in the Coulter building a temporary organization of the Seventy-fifth Assembly District Club was effected Saturday night. Bert D. Carle was elected temporary chairman, and Crues (Carroll), temporary secretary. A committee of permanent organization was appointed, consisting of C. E. Clark, B. W. Hawkins and D. E. Mellus, chairman, to report at a meeting to be held Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Edwin Baker, Republican candidate for Assemblyman from the Seventy-fifth District, was present and received the unanimous and unqualified indorsement of those present. The Republican Precinct Committees of the Seventy-third Assembly District met in room No. 112, Coulter building. W. H. O'Connell, candidate for the Assembly from this district, was the principal speaker.

Harry A. Chamberlain, an attorney and former newspaper man, is a candidate for nomination to the Assembly from the Seventy-second District. He promises to have no hand in flipping or legislation with which the State has been plagued and says he will be one of the watchdogs of the State treasury. He was born in Fresno and has lived in Los Angeles twelve years. While he was doing newspaper work he studied law and was graduated from the University of Southern California.

MR. HUMMS HUMS INTO FOOTPADS.

MOTORCYCLE PROVES TO BE LATEST WEAPON OF SELF-DEFENSE.

Dump your revolvers and pistols into the ash heap; plunge your rifles, blackjacks and brass knuckles into the neighbor's well. Banish boxing as the art of manly defense.

For personal protection they are obsolete. Footpads and others upon evil bent.

It remained for Mr. Doncaster Humm of No. 446 Centennial street to discover the most potent, efficacious and up-to-date means of self-defense.

His discovery is none other than the much-reviled motorcycle. The first trial was made at 3:45 a.m. yesterday morning. There were two witnesses and they would confer a favor upon the police department if they would leave their cards at Central Station.

Humm was humming homeward on Figueroa street at a nice early morning clip when he was impeded by two men whose slouch hats were pulled over their eyes. The two faced the oncoming Humm and raised the hands in the approved crossing-officer fashion. But Humm thought to himself that the two were the embroilers of official peace officers, and as they called to him to halt, he turned the speed accelerator on the handle bar and sped at the two. They stood petrified with surprise—until Humm hit one of them, bouncing him lightly or otherwise to the curb.

Y.M.I. INITIATES. Seventy-five Novitates Taken Into the Order Yesterday—Three State Officers Present.

With three State officers present, the Southern California division of the Young Men's Institute, Pasadena and Los Angeles councils initiated the largest class in the history of the order here yesterday at the Walker Auditorium. Three degrees were conferred on the seventy-five novitates by the local degree team under the direction of District Deputy Grand President Thomas Combs.

The officers who came from San Francisco to attend the ceremonies were President James C. A. Riegl, Grand Secretary George A. Stanley, and Past Grand Director G. A. Riley.

Following the ceremonies the members went to the Casa Verdeo Segundo, where they were entertained at a banquet. One of the most entertaining of the addresses made at the banquet was given by Police Judge Thomas P. White. The other speakers were the three visiting officers, and Past Grand Director George M. Rosecrans, E. J. Gillis, president of the Pasadena council; E. T. Loefer, president of the Los Angeles council; Walter S. Martin, president of the County council, and Rev. Joseph E. Glass of St. Vincent's College.

POULTRY MEETING. The Poultry Breeders' Association of Southern California will meet in the assembly hall, Chamber of Commerce, Thursday evening. J. Will Blackman will make an address on "The Perils of the Chinese Egg Invasion," and will suggest a plan for concerted action on this matter of vital importance to every owner of poultry on the Pacific Coast. Messrs. Lape, Blanchard and others from the Rhode Island Red Club will give short talks about the Reds.

up into the mountain not to be transfigured, but to pray. There is in the Gospel nothing to show that Christ went into the mountain, that there this transfiguration might take place. Whether or not pure and unadorned or anticipated such an event, we must not know, but we do know that He, with these three chosen disciples went into the mountain for the purpose of prayer. And while He was praying, He was transfigured.

The only transfiguration which can come to human beings is that which will come as a result of the inner spiritual transformation of the man as he has kept faith with God and with mankind.

This transfiguration of Christ was, indeed, to cheer and comfort Him at His approaching death. The word translated "transfigured" does not mean that it means the plain and deliberate going from one place to another place as fulfilling a plan or purpose. Is it not wonderful that Christ should look forward to His death in this glorious fashion? Most of us look upon death as something which threatens us and which is inevitable and which we must face with the best courage we can. And yet, according to the life and teachings of Jesus Christ, death should be the most glorious thing that could ever come to a human soul in this world.

DR. CHARLES EDWARD LOCKE. FIRST M. E. CHURCH. IT IS THE FATHER'S DUTY AND PRIVILEGE TO BE PROVIDER.

Dr. Charles Edward Locke at the First Methodist Episcopal Church in celebration of Father's Night last evening, preached on the subject, "The Father of the Family—His Influence and Responsibility." Exodus 20:12, "Honor thy father."

"When the names of the great fathers of the Bible are being called, Abraham and Isaac and Jacob and Jesse and Joseph and Job, the honored name of Joshua should not be omitted. It is he who said, 'I will be my house, and my house, we will serve the Lord.'"

Early in the history of the human race the father's factorship was developed. From necessity he became the protector and provider of the family. It is a Bible principle that the man who neglects his family is worse than an infidel. No man has any right to assume the married relation until he has passed the experimental period of making a living. Food, and raiment, and educational and church privileges, and a comfortable home, should all come under the father's care.

To a large extent the discipline of the family must rest with the father; and that man is selfish and cowardly who shirks this important part of his duty. Parental burden is a crime against the children and a tragedy to the parents themselves.

"If fathers do not inculcate veneration, reverence and obedience in their children—if they spoil their children's lives, and bring the gray hairs of their parents in sorrow to the grave."

The wise man in his Proverbs says: "He that spareth his rod hateth his son."

"This is a solemn charge to wisely and affectionately chasten our children, but it is no justification for the savage and brutal manner in which some parents maltreat their children when they have themselves lost their temper. Such cruel and irresponsible parents should be arrested for assault and battery. The rod should never be used except as a last resort, and in many cases can be dispensed with altogether. A resourceful parent will find other more effective methods of punishment.

"The father should see to it that his children are equipped for their life's work. By precept and example he should inculcate in his children the highest moral and religious ideals."

When the father is doing his utmost to discharge his moral duties to his children he should be most cordially assisted by his wife. If he is the high priest of the home altar, the wife should be with him the high priestess.

The father's strong, virile, assertive nature will affect more than any other influence the character of his boys, who will admire and imitate him; and if he possesses good sense, his moral and religious ideals will usually be adopted by his children.

French Nobleman, Who Likes Politics and Golf, Here With His Wife on World Tour.

Baron Frachon of Paris, noted for the fact that he has the appearance of the traditional noblemen of medieval times, and Baroness Frachon, arrived at the Alexandria yesterday on a world tour, eastward bound.

The Baron's coal-black beard, hawk eyes and stocky figure suggest Sir Walter Scott. His appearance is deceptive, according to reports. He is said to be one of the kindest-hearted men in Europe. The Baroness is younger than her husband and is a stylish in appearance.

The Baron, who speaks no English, said through an interpreter yesterday, that he is chiefly interested in politics and golf, aside from the beautification of his ancient estate.

"While I am interested in golf I deny that I am one of the best players in Europe," the Baron asserted.

The Baroness had an English governess and this fortunate circumstance with her diligent application to an American guide book, enable her to speak of her travels in English. She expressed special interest in the French settlements in Indo-China. The quaintness of the villages and the Arcadian life of the people were especially appealing, she declared.

DENY THEY ASK PARDON. (LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) POMONA, June 21.—Directors of the American National Bank deny they signed petitions for the pardon of Earl Standard, the young bank clerk who is now serving a ten-year sentence in the Federal prison at McNeil's Island for having mulcted the bank of about $150,000. In a signed statement President P. E. Graham, Vice-President E. M. Davis, Cashier John P. Storrs, Assistant Cashiers H. H. Denny and F. C. Robinson, and Mel Campbell, of Wash. Hunt G. H. Waters, J. F. Lobingier, J. T. Brady, H. J. Nichols and L. C. Meredith, directors of the bank, asserted that from their knowledge of the case Standard richly deserves his sentence and it would be an affront to justice and of no benefit to the world to have the young bank embezzler relieved of further penalty.

HIGH TIDE IN KANSAS.

Fourteen Inches of Rain the Cause.

Wheat Fields Converted Into Lakes by Unexpected Deluge.

Deaths of Persons Rendered Homeless—Heavy Loss of Livestock.

Many Towns Isolated; Traffic on the Great Railways Is Interrupted.

(By A. P. MORTIMER.)

ANAS CITY (Mo.) June 22.—Four were driven from their homes, whose wheat fields swept away, corn damaged, and much livestock lost as a result of the heaviest rain in Kansas in years.

Dozens of creeks and rivers in northeast Kansas have left their banks and flooded the surrounding country. In the vicinity of Potter, Mo., fourteen inches of rain was reported and at Valley Falls the precipitation amounted to nine and one-eighth inches.

Industrial traffic is demoralized, many towns are isolated and it probably will be several days before normal railway service is resumed.

There was virtually no service today on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, the Union Pacific, the Chicago and North Western.

Prehistoric Camel's Molar Found in Clay Beds of Long Beach Brick Yard.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.)

LONG BEACH, June 21.—The tooth of a herbivorous animal, probably of the Pleistocene period, was found today at the brick yard on Seventh and Zimmo streets, and because a camel can go ten days without drinking, Expert Fisher, of the county museum, to whom it was taken, pronounces it part of an ancient camel, a herd of which roamed the dry plains of Long Beach in the early days.

The brick yard is becoming well known for its storehouse of ancient bones, buried in clay about twenty feet below the surface. The bones of sea and land animals alike are entombed in the stiff earth. Bones of whales, smaller fishes and land animals have been dug up and are being collected for the High School museum by Miss Jane Harnett, history instructor.

That portion of the tooth projecting beyond the gum in the fragment found today is three inches long. Its
